In accepting Marx's resignation, Ebert commissioned the chancellor to carry on until a new cabinet is formed.

NAB PROMOTERS OF L. A. CEMETERY

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 15.—Two men who had been indicted by the federal grand jury for promotion activities in the Valhalla "cemetery swindle," were arrested today.

They were charged with "using the mails in a scheme to defraud."

John R. Osborne and O. C. Fitzpatrick, the men captured, are to be released on bond of $50,000 each. Police stated that two others, also under indictment, will be arrested soon.

Post office inspectors who poked the Valhalla plan stated that its promoters advertised through the mails, offering lots in a cemetery located near Burbank. Their investigation showed that lots were sold for exorbitant prices and that lots were sold two or three times to different buyers.

THREE SMALL BOYS BURNED TO DEATH

GREAT FALLS, Mont., Dec. 15.—Three small sons of William Smiley are dead today at Eden, 18 miles south of here, burned to death in a fire which destroyed the Wise general store at the little farming settlement Sunday night.

Smiley, with his family had come into Eden to take part in a turkey shoot. The boys, whose ages range from one to four years, had been left in the store while their parents participated in the shoot, only 75 yards away from the building.

Lansing Beach To Outline Harbor Work

The Orange County Harbor commission, at its meeting on Tuesday, December 23 will have conferences with a number of harbor engineers who would like to execute plans decided on for further development of Orange county harbor, if a bond issue is voted, it was announced today by Harry Welch, secretary of the commission.

General Lansing H. Beach, former head of the United States board of army engineers, has been retained by the commission as consulting engineer, and it is expected he will outline the program of work that will form the basis of recommendations by the commission to the board of supervisors. The report of General Beach also will present data that will be of assistance to the commission in determining the amount of the bond issue the body will suggest to the board of supervisors as necessary to place the harbor in condition to handle ocean traffic.

OPERATIVES IN DRY RAID PAID SAYS STARBUCK

* Operatives conducting the raid in Orange county three weeks ago have been paid in full the sum of $11,200, covering wages and expense incurred during the 68-day campaign, according to a statement today at Fullerton by William Starbuck, one of the principals of the county-wide committee organizing the drive.

Starbuck said it had not been decided whether the city councils at Santa Ana and Huntington Beach would be asked to reimburse the committee by appropriating $2500 each.

The Fullerton city council has allowed a demand for this amount, but payment has been held up by an injunction suit filed by Stanley Chapman of that city. The city council at Anaheim this week is expected to take action on claim for like amount.

Plans have not been developed for reimbursing the committee, Starbuck said.

Two mass meetings under the auspices of the committee will be held in the county this week, one at Fullerton and one at Huntington Beach, it was announced by Starbuck.

It was stated that collections would be taken at the meetings, the funds to be used in future work of the committee, and not to compensate for any work done in the past.

"Law Enforcement" will be the subject for discussion at each meeting. The Rev. L. L. Meyers, Anaheim pastor, and Klan leader, will be the principal speaker. There also will be others present to discuss the subject.

"Payment of the costs of the liquor raid will not be taken up at either meeting," Starbuck said.

"We have no intention of trying to force any citizen to pay a portion of the costs of the recent raid. The question of the right of the Fullerton city council to appropriate money for the purpose is now in the courts, with expectation that the decision of Judge Williams on the injunction action of Chapman will be rendered Friday at 10 a. m. We do not expect to mix in municipal politics."

SEEK MEANS TO PREVENT AUTO DEATHS

Hoover Tells of Huge Toll of Life Taken Yearly by Traffic Accidents

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—An awakened nation demands in no uncertain terms that the annual carnage in American streets and highways due to recklessness and incompetency of both motorists and pedestrians be checked. Secretary of Commerce Hoover declared in a speech to the national conference on street and highway safety here today.

"It is high time that something should be done about this," Hoover said. "We must find constructive measures to meet the crisis of tens of thousands of deaths annually, with hundreds of thousands of serious personal injuries and millions of property damage, accomplished by an economic loss of some staggering sum such as $600,000,000 yearly."

Hoover proposed three lines of approach to the remedy:

1.—Prevention and safeguard.
2.—Much stronger punishment for violation of the rights of others.
3.—Public education.

"Remedy cannot be accomplished overnight," Hoover warned.

The annual death loss from traffic accidents equates one-third of the total of American deaths in the world war," Hoover pointed out.

A very large proportion of them, he said, are pedestrians, but "the motorists themselves often are the victims of reckless driving."

The blame for present traffic conditions, however, cannot be put on any one class, Hoover said, emphasizing the fact that the safety conference brought together everyone interested in highway safety.

Incompetence, carelessness and recklessness are the largest of contributors to this ghastly toll," he said.

"We would find in a lesser degree the lack of preventative measures, confusions over the regulations in force and also that prevention of accidents are in part involved in large problems of difficult solution in the planning of our cities."

Pointing to the present lack of uniformity of traffic codes and urging reform, Hoover said:

"I could be arrested and convicted on a dozen counts on a trip between Washington and New York if I followed carefully either the New York or Washington traffic regulations."

Hoover appealed to the conference to devise a permanent solution of the problems, based upon local regulation rather than federal legislation.

PRESIDENT MAY RAISE SUGAR TAX

Indications that President Coolidge will urge the support of a sugar tariff designed to protect the economic interests of the beet growers and the domestic sugar industry, are contained in a message received today by The Register from Congressman Phil D. Swing.

According to the message the President has not yet taken the report prepared by the tariff commission, which deals extensively with the sugar situation. It is added, however, that he expects to do so in the near future. No guess can be made as to what decision the chief executive will arrive at except that in his message to congress he praises the tariff bill and says that it has contributed to the prosperity of the country.

Pastor Lauds Cross-Word Puzzle Craze

OAKLAND, Cal., Dec. 15.—Cross word puzzles may provide a new key to the Scriptures, clothing old religious ideas with new meaning, because they are taking people in all walks of life to the very heart of the language, Rev. Clarence Reed, Unitarian pastor, told his congregation Sunday.

"Words and definitions no longer seem something dead," Rev. Reed declared. "They are alive and elusive. The dictionary and synonym book have become as full of thrills as the opening of a gold mine for old and young, rich and poor, who are trying to solve the puzzles."

The old creeds, he said, have been written today would not have been couched in the same words. Modern people inevitably will be turned toward the mysteries of the Bible, and the definition and the synonym will bring to life new spiritual belief, the pastor predicted.

CLOSE CANYON HIGHWAY FOR REPAIR WORK

Motorists will save themselves much wasted mileage and possible profanity by taking note of "closed road" signs placed today at the entrance to Santa Ana canyon, according to J. L. McBride, county superintendent of highways.

The canyon boulevard, from the Riverside county line to Corona, was closed today by Riverside county authorities for repairs. The highway, while being resurfaced, will remain closed for 30 days, with the possible exception of Christmas day and New Years.

Because of local travel between Olive and the county line, the highway could not be completely closed at the Orange county entrance, McBride said. But large signs were posted at Olive, and at the junction of the Yorba road, warning motorists that the road is closed at the county line. No bypass can be provided for several miles beyond the line, it is said, so that traffic must stop short at the line.

"The signs mean just what they say," said McBride.

Travel to Riverside county and points beyond is now routed through Carbon canyon or Brea canyon.

TRIBUTE IS PAID WILSON IN CONGRESS

President Coolidge Attends Ceremonies Broadcast By Nine Stations

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—In the chamber of the house of representatives where Woodrow Wilson delivered his famous war message to congress, dignitaries of the nation today held simple and solemn services in his memory.

At the stroke of noon, President Coolidge, flanked by members of his cabinet, filed into the crowded chamber where members of congress, the diplomatic corps, Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, the widow, and intimate friends of the war president, were already assembled.

The scene was not unlike that seven years ago when Wilson from the same rostrum summoned the nation to war. Most of the personages who graced that occasion were present, even including half a dozen members of the old Wilson cabinet, who returned to pay tribute to their chief.

Those high in official and social life of the capital were crowded into the galleries where admittance was given only upon invitation cards. Hundreds were turned away and stood in the halls outside.

Several millions others in distant cities were present at the services through the radio.

Nine stations broadcast the ceremonies.

THRONG BIER FOR GLIMPSE OF CHIEFTAIN

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Dec. 15.—Thousands of men and women braved the cold here this morning to view the body of Samuel Gompers fallen labor chieftain, here on the first leg of the journey for burial in Sleepy Hollow, Tarrytown, N. Y.

A bodyguard of 15 representatives of the Central Labor Union were on duty about the car, ushering the throng of people about the station platform. A special squad of patrolmen also was on duty.

Gompers' body will lie in state on the private car here until noon following which it will be transferred to the Baltimore & Ohio railroad for the last trip East.

It was Gompers' own people who stood silently watching as the train slowly backed into the station. Many carried lunch kits under their arm, the train having arrived at a time when the workers could stop in, pay their respects, then go to their jobs.

It was the sort of crowd that Gompers liked. Office workers and business men in trim clothing touched arms with the coarsely attired day laborers. All trades were represented. The men were sad faced and silent as they stepped on the last car and filed by the flower banked coffin.

Many women were in the crowd at the station and several of them were sobbing. Some carried small bunches of flowers in their hands and dropped them on the blanket of flowers which covered the coffin and the floor around.

The car in which the body lies in state will remain here until just before noon, so that all St. Louisans may join in the silent tribute. It is expected the train will leave here shortly after noon.

CLAIMS MORTIMER WAS 'GO-BETWEEN'

CHICAGO, Dec. 15.—Elias H. Mortimer, once the confidante of Colonel Charles R. Forbes, veterans' bureau chief, posed as the "go between" for Forbes and all contractors seeking government building contracts, E. C. Stockdale of Oak Park, Ill., testified today in the Forbes-Thompson fraud trial.

Stockdale, a representative of the Sumner-Sollitt company of Chicago, said he went to Washington to get building contracts for his firm. He was introduced to Mortimer who said:

"You'll have to see me if you want any government contracts."

The government used Stockdale's testimony in an effort to show that Colonel Forbes and John W. Thompson, a St. Louis contractor, conspired to defraud the government through illegal building contracts.

Mortimer, the government star witness, admitted on the stand previously that he represented Thompson's firm in Washington and was paid to "buy" contracts for Forbes.

John B. Milliken, a government attorney, working under Forbes' administration of the veterans' bureau, was the next government witness and told of a transcontinental trip with Forbes and Mortimer. His testimony was largely for the purpose of corroborating the story of Mortimer.

"Joiners" Fever Hits Russians Of Revolutionary Tendencies

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—Members of the Monday Opera Supper club and others of New York's new and self-appointed "five hundred" have just one more day of genuflecting and hand-kissing with the "Czarina of all Russias."

At high noon tomorrow the "Czarina," that is the grand duchess Cyril, is going to leave them flat and return to Europe.

"Her majesty," as the duchess has become to those who are really in the inner swim by virtue of her exiled husband's pretensions to the somewhat intangible throne of Russia, makes her last social appearance tonight at Sherry's. To make the "czarina" feel perfectly at home, five members of the bomb squad have been detailed to act as her escort.

Sunday was a great day in the life of the czarina. After attending church at the Russian cathedral, preceded by a snorting, smoking escort of motorcycle cops who held up traffic to permit "her imperial majesty" to pass, the grand duchess was escorted to the plaza. There, in the royal salon, 300 Russians and society folk hailed her as an empress and sang hymns to her.

"The czarina is ascending in the elevator," announced Boris Brazel, a Russian bookseller, impressively. The group could hardly contain its eagerness. The elevator door opened on the little salon. There, sure enough, was the grand duchess. She took a step forward into the center of the semi-circle smiling expectantly.

Brazel flung himself on one knee before her and kissed her hand. The band played "Hail to the Russian czar" which never is played except in the actual presence of the czar or czarina. The grand duchess smiled graciously and accepted a bunch of American beauties and more kisses. Blue blooded knees that hitherto have bent only at the dictates of a golf professional, genuflected before her.

STATE AID IS REQUESTED FOR J.R. COLLEGES

Recommendations that additional state aid be given the establishment and operation of all junior colleges throughout the state, are under consideration by the council of education of the California Teachers' association, according to R. P. Mitchell and City Superintendent J. A. Cranston who attended the annual session held last Saturday in Los Angeles.

At this meeting, attended by leading school men of the state, considerable time was devoted to the problems incidental to establishment, operation and financing of junior colleges. Frequent references were made to Orange county where an attempt is being made to establish a county junior college with a four year course. In this connection Orange county was held up as a pioneer in a movement to equalize facilities for obtaining college education, and at the same time equalize cost of operation.

In recommending greater state aid for junior colleges, it was pointed out that communities like Berkeley, San Francisco, Oakland, Los Angeles and other cities near the state university and its branches are getting the benefit of a two-year junior college course without paying for it, while on the other hand communities removed from these state institutions of learning, are called upon to defray the cost of maintaining junior colleges, in addition to contributing their share toward the support of the state university.

These observations led to a discussion whether or not junior colleges should not be entirely supported by the state instead by local districts. Following the conference, the chairman of the committee on legislation indicated that recommendations setting forth sense of the meeting would be submitted to the state legislature for consideration.

It was indicated that objection to establishing a four-year college in Orange county or any other place in the state would meet with opposition from the regents of the state university. It was added that the state universities would favor the establishment of regular two-year college junior colleges, either as a county unit, or in any other consolidated district form, but would not favor a four-year course, which would result in direct competition with the state university.

EXAMINE JURY TO DECIDE BANK CASE

Examination of a jury to hear the suit of the Anaheim National bank against Clarence Walker, of Orange, involving a demand for payment of a $5,000 note, which Walker contends is not valid, was started at 10 a. m. today in Superior Judge Z. B. West's court.

Attorneys Ames and McFadden, of Anaheim, appeared for the bank, Walker being represented by Attorneys S. M. Delinhaus and Fred Forgy, of Scarborough, Forgy and Delinhaus, this city.

Past or present connection of the prospective jurors with banks was the chief theme of the examination. Mrs. Kate Quarton, of Anaheim was excused because she is a depositor in the plaintiff bank.

Tom Robinson, bathing suit inspector at Newport Beach revealed that business is "falling off" in his department at the present season. And he wasn't certain whether he was a bank stockholder or "sockholder."

"I've got money tied up in three banks in New Mexico and they are all defunct," he said. "So I guess I must be a stockholder."

The bank's suit against Walker was contested on the ground, according to Walker, that the note was given for oil stock that was never delivered to him, the note being diverted by the agent to private purposes, ending with its assignment to the bank.

OUR—NEIGHBORS

BAKERSFIELD — Negotiations are under way here for the purchase of the famous California Rand silver mine, Incorporated, at Johannesburg, near Randburg, 108 miles east of Bakersfield on the Mojave desert, by New York and London financiers. A deposit of $25,000 has been made by the purchasers who have agreed to take over the 1,280,000 shares of stock at $2 per share, or $2,560,000 for the property. Since the mine was discovered in 1919 it has yielded over $10,000,000.

SAN BERNARDINO — Cash amounting to $125 was stolen from the safe of the San Bernardino high school early yesterday morning by burglars who entered the local school building after breaking locks and forcing open two doors. In their haste to escape the thieves overlooked $40 in cash. That the sum stolen will probably be larger was intimated last night by Ira W. Kibbey, principal of the school, who declared that the loss will not be known until an accounting is made by Mrs. Anna E. Collins, school secretary. Entrance to the building is believed to have been made early Saturday morning. A program at the school last night was attended by students until midnight. The burglars pried open a window on the south side of the main building leading to the basement, where they ransacked the stockroom for tools and then made their way up to the main floor of the building.

RIVERSIDE — If Riverside were adequately protected from crime, 24 instead of 16 policemen would guard the city. An automobile patrol of the residence district is an imperative need of Riverside at present. Never in the city's history has there been a greater need of increased police protection than now, when an influx of "crooks" from the East is creating apprehension among peace officers of all Southern California, who are preparing to combat what they believe is an oncoming crime wave.

These were the statements yesterday of Chief of Police Elmer Deiss, when he told of plans forming in his mind to offer Riverside better protection by his department. The first need, the chief said, is for more men.

A man for every 1000 population is the minimum for every efficient municipal police force, the chief said. If Riverside were a city of 16,000, the present force might be sufficient. But the present force, Riverside has at least 24,000 by conservative estimate, and the police department must "cripple along" with an inadequate force. In fact, Chief Deiss said, the scattered population here, the lighting conditions, and the Mexican population make it desirable that the ratio be one policeman for at least each 900 population.

In the day time, Deiss said, there are two men available for police work.

LODI — Lodi's famous frog rain prophet Clarice has started to croak again. Early this year the accurate rain forecasts made by Clarice caused considerable comment in the police court and other gossip centers here.

Out in her grassy bed next to the waterworks behind the city hall Clarice would give out distinctive notes the day before a rain.

On one particular night the city dads paused in their ponderous deliberations to look at each other with knowing determination as 13 ominous notes pealed out of the dark air. The next day it rained exactly .13 inch.

That cured all doubts and at their next meeting the trustees passed an informal resolution charging the city marshal to see that Clarice was not molested.

The Well-Dressed Man

By BEAUNASH

Correct Clothes To Meet The Obligation Of Every Occasion

You may keep business out of golf, but how can you keep golf out of business? It is its principal rival. All roads lead to the open road, including the primrose path of fashion. What the golfer is cannily calculating, even in winter, is how he may be freed from the boresome necessity of ever changing his knickers. Faith? he'd like to go to bed in them.

Latterly, there has been a noticeable revival in style of the leather jacket or jerkin, as the Englishman terms it. This is a snug-fitting garment of soft buckskin or suede designed to take the place of the sportsman's sweater when more than customary warmth is sought. A spruce jacket of this sort is pictured in the accompanying sketch. It has five large buttons down the front and three smaller ones at the bottom which is made of knitted, elastic-ribbed jersey cloth, as are also the high neck and the sleeve edges.

There are four flapped pockets fastening with buttons to hold the various personal tribbles that every sportsman can't do without. The garment curves slightly to the waistline and should not be confused with those bulky, shapeless coats of sheepskin, moleskin or dogskin worn by lumberjacks. The buckskin jacket is admirable for motoring in an open car, as well as for all snow-and-blow sports.

Persons having matters they wish to bring to the attention of the grand jury may do so every Tuesday morning at 10 a. m., at the Orange county harbor commission's room in the hall of records, it was announced today by L. G. Swales, foreman of the jury.

AROUND THE COURTHOUSE

Brief News of Courts and County Officers

Preliminary examination of Thomas Hill, 17, of Santa Ana, on a statutory charge, was set for 3 p. m. today in Justice K. E. Morrison's court.

Accused of stealing 10 bales of hay from D. Eymann Huff, manager of the Hewes ranch at El Modena, Juan Quiroga and C. Quiroga were scheduled to appear for trial at 2 p. m. today before Justice Kenneth E. Morrison. A petit larceny charge was brought against the Mexicans when a quantity of hay, identified by Huff as having been stolen from his ranch, was found in their possession. Muddy tracks leading from the hay barns to the Quiroga premises were said to have been followed.

According to arrangements being completed today, the state will make its second effort Tuesday to find J. C. Yeargan, Costa Mesa youth, guilty of possession of liquor. The trial is set for 10 a. m. in Justice Kenneth E. Morrison's court, where a jury will be empaneled. The jury at Yeargan's first trial, September 20, disagreed. G. K. Duffy and A. H. Peterson who were arrested with Yeargan by Newport Beach officers September 4 both subsequently pleaded guilty to a charge of possession, and each was fined $25.

W. G. Kays, of Santa Ana, was today held to answer in the superior court on a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, his preliminary examination being conducted before Justice Kenneth E. Morrison.

Anahem property was involved in a suit to quiet title, brought in the superior court today by Charles Eysagbrod against J. C. Osher and other defendants.

A new hearing was today assured Dan R. Mears, local contractor, against whom a court judgment for $764.87 was recently awarded by the superior court to the E. M. Smith Lumber company, of Anaheim. Judge R. Y. Williams late yesterday granted a motion by A. P. Nelson, attorney for Mears, to set aside the former judgment, which had been given by default, November 5. At the time of the hearing Nelson had been absent in Fresno on business, and was not able to present a defense to the claim.

Succeeding in their move to "straighten out the records" with respect to topographical conditions at the shore line of their tract at Laguna Beach, Skidmore Brothers of that place today held a superior court decree quieting title to a portion of the property.

At the subdivision of the tract, a strip of beach along the ocean front was deeded for public use. The beach ended at the lots involved in the present proceedings, which were on a bluff where the water line came to the foot. Survey maps, however, indicated a beach extending along the front of these lots, also, though the water was 20 feet deep where the beach was shown.

Fearing that complications might arise, resulting in a claim to the front portion of their lots, Skidmore Brothers took steps in court to clear the records. Judge R. Y. Williams granted the decree late yesterday.

MACCABEES PICK NEW OFFICIALS

Mrs. Anna Towner is the new commander of the Women's Beneficent Association of the Maccabees of Santa Ana, being elected and installed at the session held here December 12. Mrs. Margaret Erickson was installing officer and Mrs. Cora Wood, lady of ceremonies. Mrs. Annie Arnold is the retiring commander.

Following is a list of those installed: Commander, Mrs. Anna Towner; lieutenant, commander, Mrs. Dixie Weakley; collector, Mrs. Margaret Culver; record and finance keeper, Mrs. Ivy Olson; lady at arms, Mrs. Cora Wood; chaplain, Mrs. Mary Schlusman; sergeant at arms, Mrs. Doris Spangler; sentinel, Mrs. Beatrice Hossler; picket, Mrs. Elizabeth Hoxie; musician, Mrs. Etta Erickson.

The election took place at an all day session. A chicken dinner was served at noon.

from this district, is recovering from his recent paralytic stroke, according to statements here today by Dr. V. A. Rossiter and W. C. Jerome, who visited him in Los Angeles yesterday. Eden's right hand and vocal cords mostly were affected by the seizure, but yesterday he was able to talk and life gradually was returning to his right hand.

Professor L. W. Fluhaarty, specialist in farm economics of the University of California, came to Orange county today for a two day visit with the agriculturists. He planned to spend this afternoon with the dairymen. Tomorrow he will visit with the citrus and walnut growers. Professor Fluhaarty is preaching the gospel of farm bookkeeping. He believes that the farmer, as much as the commercial house, needs to have an accurate account of his business.

A. A. Brock, horticulture commissioner of Orange county, was back at his office today after spending the past week attending the agriculture convention at Sacramento. Mr. Brock was accompanied to the north by D. Eymann Huff, Santa Ana; Supervisor Leon Whittell, Villa Park; A. J. Prizer, S. W. McCulloch and H. Knowlton, of Fullerton.

OUTLINES NEW CIVICS COURSE FOR STUDENTS

Text books, demonstration schools, creative education, Mexican children and supervision of rural schools, are among subjects touched upon in the biennial report of the Commissioner of Elementary Schools, a copy of which has been received at office of the county superintendent of schools. Under the heading of text books, the report states that an outline of study in civics has been prepared by commissioner of elementary schools. This course in civics has a two-fold aim. The first is to establish civic efficiency by giving children an opportunity to discover their special interests, so that they may know how they can best serve.

The suggestions for study in the seventh years are designed to encourage each child to work in the line of his greatest interest on the theory that society needs for its fullest development every human interest, and that civic understanding comes from seeing the relationship of the work of each individual to the whole.

The aim of the civics as outlined in the eighth year, the report adds, is to show how individual relationship to government. Since the state is closer than the nation, it has seemed best to use state government as the entrance into this department of human relationship, as many children are confused by the abstraction of national government.

Attempts to introduce procedures into Mexican schools, designed to be more helpful to these children and enable them to reveal their native genius, have not been very successful, it is admitted in the report.

Creative Education
Creative education is a new phase in elementary grades, which is addition to the work in the general elementary field, will include music, art, public speaking and California history and civics.

The report goes on to say that considerable attention is devoted to the high percentage of illiteracy among Mexicans living in Southern California, in which connection efforts are made to promote a better understanding of the Mexican child and to arrive at more effective ways in dealing with the Mexican population.

One of the strongest agencies for the improvement of rural schools is the California state system of rural supervision. The special aim of the rural supervisors was to work for the release of teachers from their fears and limitations, and through them make possible spontaneous growth in the children of rural communities.

The following program is suggested as a basis for the improvement of rural schools:

Increase of Pay
Increase in pay of rural teachers and of establishing a salary schedule in each district of sufficient inducement to encourage teachers to remain in rural positions.

A campaign to encourage the best of high school students to enter training for the elementary field.

The extension of the free county library system so that every county either has a county library or is under contract for service with a county library already established.

The organization of correspondence and extension course for teachers in cooperation with teachers' colleges and in combination with rural supervision.

The use of radio for broadcasting lectures, concerts and lessons given by expert teachers for benefit of rural schools in the state.

Touching upon a proposed reorganization of the elementary curriculum, the report states that the work with the financial aid of the state, has been assigned to two committees—one of research and one on policy making and review.

'ANTLERED HERD' TO FETE LEADER

Members of the "antlered herd" of Orange county today were anticipating a big time in Santa Ana on the evening of January 5, when John G. Price, Grand Exalted Ruler, will be guest of the lodges of the county at a reception and general jollification to be held at the club room of the Santa Ana Lodge No. 794, B. P. O. E.

Plans for entertainment of the "big chief" here were revealed today by Dr. V. A. Rossiter, exalted ruler of the Santa Ana lodge, who yesterday attended in Los Angeles a meeting of the exalted rulers of the lodges of Southern California held for the purpose of arranging for entertainment of Price during his stay in Southern California, January 1-9. Rossiter was accompanied to the conference by W. C. Jerome, past exalted ruler of Santa Ana lodge.

Price is due to arrive in Los Angeles Elks. During his nine-day stay, on December 31, when he will be taken in hand by Los Angeles Elks. During his nine-day stay in the Southland he will be tendered a number of receptions, in many instances lodges grouping in one meeting, as will be done with the lodges at Santa Ana, Anaheim and Orange.

PLAN BANNER CELEBRATION FOR YULETIDE

PLACENTIA, Dec. 15.—At their final meeting of the year the Merchant's division of the Placentia Chamber of Commerce, attended by over forty merchants, laid final plans for the greatest Christmas celebration ever held here.

They authorized expenditures for decorations for the entire business district, and arranged other details for an entire week of celebration and bargain sales.

At the close of the meeting, R. L. Fourman, prominent realtor, was chosen to head the Merchant's division as chairman for the coming year. He takes the place of Giggord Farrar, who has capably filled the position for the past year.

Agreements were reached among the merchants for the uniform decoration of their storefronts, and contracts were made with a Los Angeles decorating company for the business district to be transformed into a riot of color and light. The merchants are furnishing the children of the community with a Christmas tree.

Preceding the business session, H. J. Hopper, treasurer of the Unincorporated Towns association, and secretary of the La Habra Chamber of Commerce, addressed the merchants on the subject of incorporation, taking La Habra as an example.

The methods of reaching decisions as to the definite boundaries of the proposed townships, and the troubles encountered therein were described by the La Habra, who highly recommended the incorporation of towns the size of Placentia, giving many logical reasons for the action.

"The taxes would not be any more severe than they now are," asserted Hopper, who explained the value of local fire and police protection to the smaller towns, showing where taxes levied upon outside merchants and peddlers, a tax on the city businesses, and revenue gained from police activities would more than make up for the incorporation of the town.

Hopper spoke highly of the board of supervisors, telling of the courtesy extended to the struggling towns, and the prompt and immediate attention given in matters regarding incorporation.

MEXICAN JAILED FOLLOWING FIGHT

One Mexican is in the county hospital and another is in the county jail today following a dispute which led from a fist fight encounter to an alleged knife wielding near Buena Park, late yesterday. Police records show that J. B. Garcia, 28, is facing a charge of assault with a deadly weapon, and a report from the Orange county hospital is to the effect that one Ramon Gregarez, 28, is there, suffering from several slashes about the face and throat. His condition is not regarded as serious.

A hurried call to the sheriff's department late yesterday rushed Chief Criminal Deputy Ed McClellan, Under-Sheriff French, and Deputies Zabel, Hefner and Coombs to Buena Park, where they found Gregarez bleeding from his wounds. He was rushed to the county hospital, and Garcia was found later. Garcia's wounds, which were of a minor nature, were dressed in the county jail.

Capital Letter

BY HARRY B. HUNT
WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—The capital's social maelstrom soon will be boiling. Congress is back, officialdom is all accounted for and the White House has announced its "social calendar" for the season.

This latter event was the dropping of the barrier which held back the plans of dames and dowagers of the inside set. For nobody who is anybody this of having any affairs that will conflict with dinners or receptions being given by the president.

So until the White House program is announced it is wholly impossible for the socially elect to chart a schedule for the season. Nine major events at which they will be host and hostess are to be crowded into the Coolidges' list of functions within the brief span of two months. Beginning with a dinner to the cabinet on Dec. 18, the schedule calls for a reception Jan. 1; diplomatic dinner Jan. 15; judicial reception Jan. 22; Supreme Court dinner Jan. 29; congressional reception Feb. 5; speaker's dinner Feb. 12, and army and navy reception Feb. 19.

Mothers of matrimonially eligible sons are looking forward with interest to the arrival of the new French ambassador, M. Emile Daeschner, who will supplant Jules Jusserand early in January.

M. Daeschner will bring to the French embassy two daughters, and for the first time since it was built, the big stone house, topping "Embassy Hill" will know the presence of "young folks." Who knows—

Callers at the White House noted recently in Mrs. Coolidge's private music room on the second floor, some musical scores bearing the imprint:

"Words and music by John Coolidge."

It seems that young John, inheriting his mother's taste for music, has turned composer while in college and that several of his ditties have scored a very good sale. Although a student at Amherst, his father's alma mater, he is said to have an eye on a degree in music from Yale.

If President Coolidge is looking for a cosmopolitan farmer to fill the post of secretary of agriculture in his new cabinet, he may name Samuel Adams, agriculturist, horticulturist, pomologist and editor. Sam is willing to undertake the job.

Adams summarizes his biography thus:

"A Massachusetts 'Yankee' by birth; a Florida 'Cracker' by raising; an 'F. F. V.' (First Family of Virginia) by marriage; a Californian by adoption; a resident of Illinois, and a Republican in politics."

Four years ago Adams was a candidate for the vice presidential nomination on the Republican ticket.

To introduce himself, he placarded the Congress Hotel, Chicago, where he had headquarters during the convention, with big signs reading "Adams' Apples," and passed out barrels of choice fruit from his Virginia orchards.

The delegates ate his apples but voted for Cal Coolidge.

Crowding automobile traffic threatens to lay low one of the unique landmarks of the capital city.

Across the Pennsylvania avenue end of West Executive avenue, between the White House grounds and the State, War and Navy Building, the roadway is barred by three sets of massive iron gates swinging from huge stone pillars set in the street.

That is, the roadway can be so barred. But only at times when traffic past the White is restricted are the gates closed.

Now, however, presidential sealations are asked to make way for crowded traffic. The War Department has asked Congress for authority to remove the gates and pillars in the interest of "freer traffic."

WILL HOLD COUNTY SCOUT FAIR HERE

Unable to fully transact all city business at the weekly sessions of the body, the city council was scheduled to meet in executive session at 4 p. m. today for discussion and disposition of a number of important matters that have been accumulating for a number of months.

According to J. W. Tubbs, mayor, one of the important subjects coming before the executive session will be final decision on certain sections of the proposed new parking ordinance should carry.

The board already has decided that the parking limit should be two hours on certain business streets, and points to be cleared up include reservations that should be made to accommodate business men and closing of many driveways that are not used at this time. It is believed that considerable parking space will be gained by directing placement of curbs and sidewalks cut for approaches that are not in use now. It is possible also that reduction will be made in the space allotted to traffic corners on some of the streets.

An ordinance containing the provisions that will be made into law will come before the council for adoption a week later, it was intimated.

New Drug Store Bandit Appears

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 15.—A new breed of "drugstore bandit" has appeared here.

The man held up the manager of a chain drug store, bound him in the prescription room and after calmly waiting on customers for half an hour, escaped with $30, the contents of the till.

S. A. TEACHERS CAST VOTE ON IMPROVEMENTS

In a preferential tabulation of votes taken by the Santa Ana Teachers' League on a number of municipal improvement projects listed in a questionnaire prepared by the local chamber of commerce, the top place in matter of emphasis as determined by numbers of votes cast for the project or proposition, went to that entitled, "Material enlargement of Public Parks and playgrounds should be advocated."

Next in order came a proposition, "Should a program for the development and conservation of our water supply looking forward for a period of at least 50 years, be advocated."

Ranking third was the matter of establishing a junior college, entirely separated from the high school plant.

Other projects received votes in the order named:

A new public library, adequate and modern, should be built in the near future.

A civic center program involving a new city hall, library and auditorium is favored.

The policy of this city should be to take more adequate care of the present population instead of boosting for greater population.

The agricultural interests of the community should receive encouragement and support in precedence over factory interests.

In announcing the results of the questionnaire, J. Russel Bruff, assistant principal of the Santa Ana junior college, and chairman of the committee on civic affairs, stated that there was no campaigning attendant upon the work. Each teacher was presented with a list of questions with a request that he vote upon each, then select the two he felt to be most vital and the three next in importance. Not less than 135 teachers voted, of which number 47 per cent are taxpayers.

MUST EXERCISE

LONDON, Dec. 15.—"Sluggish bodies mean sluggish minds," says O. H. Grant, London manufacturer, who has adopted a means of making his office employees exercise. There are no wastebaskets by their desks, but a single large receptacle at the foot of a stairway. Whenever any of the employees have rubbish to throw away, they must rise and walk down stairs.

Young Matron Greets Bridge Players at St. Ann's Inn

St. Ann's Inn offered a charming setting for a smart little bridge luncheon with which Mrs. William Harrison White, Jr. (Lucille Brothers) entertained Saturday when members of a bridge club to which she belongs were called together for a pre-holiday affair.

Mrs. White used the Christmas motif in her table appointments as well as in the tally cards for the series of bridge games which filled the afternoon hours. Luncheon tables were brilliant with diminutive Christmas trees surrounded with red candles whose color was repeated in nut cups and in the clever cards which marked places for the guests. A four-course luncheon was served.

Attractively appointed bridge tables were arranged in the lobby and during the afternoon the young matrons were joined by Mrs. White's mother and small daughter, Mrs. H. N. Brothers and Daisy Little Phyllis Lucille White who enjoyed the party as keenly as did her elders.

Mrs. Carl P. Tompkins and Mrs. James Till of Anaheim were the two whose special scoring won them attractive gifts, but that did not mean that there was no other gift making, for it was the annual Christmas party of the group and each had added a gayly wrapped present to a prettily decorated box prepared by Mrs. White. Ribbons leading from the gifts, were drawn by the guests and thus each received a charming Christmas remembrance from some other one member.

Enjoying Mrs. White's hospitality were Mrs. Harry Ackerman, Mrs. Carl N. Brothers and Mrs. Clyde Webb, Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Glenn Black and Mrs. James Till, Anaheim; Mrs. P. K. Rogers and Mrs. Randall Curtis, Huntington Park; Mrs. Max Rogers, Walnut Park; Mrs. Jack Colvin, Huntington Beach and Mrs. Glenn Tindall of this city.

Aid Society

UNITED BRETHREN
A large attendance of Aid society members of the United Brethren church is expected at Thursday afternoon's meeting with Mrs. Potter on West Fourth street, to discuss plans for the bazaar which will be featured Saturday at the Swart grocery, Third and Shelton streets.

The society has been enjoying a particularly large attendance, the latest meeting with Mrs. Keister and her sister, Mrs. Titus at the Keister home on West Second street, having been a particularly interesting one. Much of the success is felt to be due the efforts and enthusiasm of the society president, Mrs. Brock and her corps of willing assistants.

Mrs. Swart is the latest to become a member and proved to be an excellent aide on the quilting preparatory to the bazaar. Several quilts and comforts will be on sale as well as aprons, towels and pretty articles in handwork. Home-cooked food will also be given prominent place. Mrs. Harrison, secretary of the society, has been quite ill but the members hope to greet her again at the Thursday meeting.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN
The December meeting of the First Presbyterian Aid society will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the church parlors. A full attendance of members is desired as a special program has been arranged and will be followed by a pleasant social hour.

CHRISTIAN
Mrs. T. D. Knights, president of the Aid society of the Christian church, has asked that all members attend a meeting of the society at the community house, Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock when important business will be discussed and some necessary work be done.

Doris Welles Auxiliary

Miss Minnie Wild will be hostess tonight to members of the Doris Welles auxiliary who will meet at her home, 636 North Ross street, at 7:30 o'clock.

The New Year to See Lavish Hospitality At Ebells Club

That the handsome new Ebells clubhouse is destined to be a true home to all Ebells clubwomen and to radiate cheer and hospitality, is indicated by plans for the year as announced recently by the president, Mrs. Terry E. Stephenson, and which include delightful afternoon gatherings on Monday of each week.

Of course the holidays will bring a pronounced degree of activity to the pleasant club, the afternoon for the wee folk and an evening dancing party for the high school and college set being outstanding pleasures eagerly anticipated by the juniors as well as the Ebells hostesses.

Beginning with Monday, January 6, the society will institute the hospitable at homes with Mrs. Samuel W. Nau in charge of the initial event. Mrs. Nau has asked Mrs. Edward M. Nealey to take charge of the card tables (for cards will be one of the diversions offered) while for those who prefer to mingle with their friends and enjoy chatting and informal wandering through the spacious rooms, a brief program of music and readings will offer entertainment.

Mrs. Nau has asked the leaders of the various sections to receive with her and aid in dispensing a friendly hospitality. Tea will be served by Miss Preble Drake and members of the Music section. The very small charge to be made for the refreshments is designed to reimburse the Music section for the outlay for materials.

Successive Monday afternoons in the month will find Mrs. Earl Morrow and Mrs. Archie Herr as hostesses while the final Monday will be the regular Ebells meeting date.

Nurses' Association

On Friday, December 19, members of the California State Nurses' association, District No. 16, will meet at the Church of the Messiah where at 2:30 o'clock they will be addressed by R. R. Miller, county probation officer.

Ebells Travelers

Ebells' Fourth Travel section will meet Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. J. C. Schmidt, 2055 North Main street, where a program on Belgium will be presented by Mrs. Schmidt and Dr. Mabel Vance Tremaine.

Mike Back On Payroll at $2 Month for Milk

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 15.—Mike, mouse catcher, is back on the government payroll at the federal building—at $2 a month for milk.

Months ago the building housed one Annabelle, another cat, at the same rate. Then the government, in an economy spasm, cut her off the payroll. The janitor and elevator man chipped in then to buy her milk. One day Annabelle showed up with about six kittens and it was more than the janitor's and elevator operator's salary could stand to buy milk for the bunch.

So Annabelle and her family were ousted, and to prevent a recurrence of duplication, the janitor got Mike.

The janitor had to feed Mike, too, for a while, but his annual report shows that Mike is back on the budget—at $2 a month for milk.

RABBIT IS BRAVE
PARIS, Dec. 15.—"Arthur," Belgian hare in a park zoo here amuses the crowds that flock through the resort by showing defiance to "Henri," the lion. The rabbit actually seems to intimidate the "king of beasts." The elephant seems to regard the rabbit in much the same way an elephant looks upon a mouse.

H. Nicholson in announcing Friday morning as the date for receiving and packing the candy.

Mrs. W. H. Thomas and her committee will be at the city hall rest room all Friday forenoon to receive the donations and will pack them and send them on their way to the W. C. T. ### Lively 500 Party Is Pleasant Surprise To the Host

One of the interesting events of the past week was an enjoyable 500 party given by Mrs. Oscar Cochems in celebration of the forty-fourth birthday of Mr. Cochems, to whom the party came as a happy surprise.

Five tables were arranged for 500 and at the close of the exciting series of games, prizes for high score were awarded Mrs. Anna Robins and Harry Roberts while Mrs. F. S. McClain and Will Barnes were presented consolation gifts.

All the guests were then assembled around one large table which was beautifully decorated and where a delicious midnight supper was served. At the close of the supper, guests were instructed to draw the ribbons that led from individual places to a great basket in the center of the table and which brought an amusing gift to each one. Mr. Cochems too was showered with gifts by his assembled friends.

The guests included Messrs. and Mesdames Will Barnes and Everett Eggleton, Olive, and Mrs. Mrs. Boynton, Pasadena; Messrs. and Mesdames Hickman, Harry Roberts, F. S. McClain, Will Robins, the Misses Daisy Stedman, Florence Cochems and Evangeline Cochems, Edwin Cochems and Sidney Eggleton, Santa Ana.

Parent-Teachers Assn.

SPURGEON
"The Value of Education and a Father's Responsibility" will be the subject of R. R. Miller's talk at tomorrow night's meeting of Spurgeon Parent-Teacher association at the school.

The program will open at 7:30 o'clock with numbers by the kindergarten band while to add to the entertainment features will be a playlet, "Santa Claus' Toy Shop" by the wee kindergartners directed by Miss Maurie Hamill, the orchestra directed by S. J. Mustol; "The Courtship of Miles Standish" written and dramatized by the high six class and directed by Miss Sadie McClain and music by the low six grade under the direction of Miss Dorothy Carothers.

Pan-Hellenic Society

Each member of Santa Ana's organization of former sorority women, the Pan-Hellenic society, is a committee of one to make a success of the big Christmas dance which is being sponsored by the society as a means of adding to the educational fund. The affair will be held at Ebells clubhouse on Christmas night and is planned as an opportunity for former college friends to meet and renew acquaintance.

In order that the dancing floor may not be overcrowded, a certain limit has been set to the number of tickets available and therefore it was urged that those planning to be present, make their reservations as early as possible. The limit is to be maintained through each member being given only a certain number of tickets to dispose of to friends. General plans for the affair are in charge of Mrs. Warren Fletcher who has promised a delightful musical program to be offered by the "Music Box" orchestra of Los Angeles, composed of half a dozen young college men.

Household Economics

Mrs. E. H. Prince of 642 North Parton street will be hostess to members of Ebells' Third Household Economics section, Friday, December 13, when they gather for a surprise-dish dinner at noon. Each one is asked to bring sandwiches, her favorite dish and table service for herself. Dinner will be served at 12 o'clock.

LAUD RECORD OF PRINT EXPERT

The annual report of the Bureau of Criminal Identification for the state of California, shows Orange county well up with other counties in the state so far as work accomplished is concerned. This county ranks sixth in the number of prints taken and photographs sent to the bureau.

Although the number of photos, which was 625 for the year ending June 30, 1924 was not as high as the previous year, Herman Zabel, finger print expert for the county, is doing all the work alone this year, where during 1923 he had two assistants.

The bureau of criminal identification in California is growing in leaps and bounds, according to the yearly report, which shows there were 18,715 persons out of a total of 55,041 delinquents whose finger print records and descriptions were received at the bureau during the past two fiscal years, were identified as having prior records.

The record further showed that 649 of those identified as habitual offenders were "escapes" from crime correctional institutions and 618 of these fugitives were "escapes" from penal institutions outside the state.

From 2,949 forged or fraudulent checks submitted to the handwriting division of the bureau for examination, the report shows that 431 forgers and fraudulent check operators were identified through the handwriting appearing on the document submitted. The checks amounted to $155,900.

Talbert

TALBERT, Dec. 15.—The hospitable country home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gisler was the scene of a reception given in honor of one of the sons of the home, Tom Gisler and bride who prior to her marriage on Sunday, November 30, at St. Mary's cathedral, San Francisco, was Miss Dorothy McIntyre of that city.

The rooms of the Gisler home were beautiful for the occasion with their decorations of hanging baskets of potted plants of rare varieties for the ownership of which the hostess is noted and these were interspersed by baskets of carnations and poinsettias, the latter lending a touch of the near holiday season to the setting.

Five hundred was the entertainment employed for the evening, three tables being used and the games were interspersed by music, both piano and vocal and the radio also furnished moments of interest. Mrs. Bernard Stoffie won high score for the ladies and was accorded as a prize a lovely vase which she presented to the bride. R. L. Callens won high score for the men and was also the recipient of an appreciated gift.

At a late hour the card tables were converted into luncheon tables and refreshments of cake, in variety, sandwiches, coffee and candy was served and a lovely wedding cake was cut and served also, at this time.

The guest list included all of the immediate relatives of the Gisler family in this section and a number of friends and many and beautiful were the gifts which were presented the honorees by them at the reception. Numbered in the party were Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Gisler, daughter, Miss Anna, sons, Allan, Ernest and Antone of Santa Ana, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Gisler of Costa Mesa, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gisler of Fairview, Miss Floete Crane of Wintersburg, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kruckenberg, and daughter, Genevieve, of Norwalk, Mr. and Mrs. Merton Penhall, daughter, Audrey and son, Alvin of Cypress, Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Stoffie and son, Bernard, of Anaheim, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Harpster of Long Beach, the honorees, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Gisler, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harper and daughter, Marjorie, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Callens, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gisler and son, Harry, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gisler, daughters, the Misses Agnes and Lucille, and son, Harold, all of Talbert.

The Havens Seed company which has had the Borchard land leased this year is now making the final picking of seed here this week it is understood. The company had in quite a variety of vegetables, egg plant, peppers, chilis, tomatoes and cucumbers being among the largest crops raised.

Rev. Oscar Gibson attended a "pot-luck" dinner at the Christian church in Huntington Beach, on Tuesday evening. The event was a most delightful "get-together" affair and was enjoyed by quite a number.

The program for Christmas which will be given on Christmas eve at the local Methodist church is now under way and the committee are practicing the children several times a week. They are doing splendidly and the entertainment gives promise of being a splendid one with its variety of music, songs, recitations and cantatas.

According to the latest word received by friends of the Greenberry Presson and Sam Bland families who are planning to be back in Talbert by Christmas upward of a dozen other families from their home town in Missouri are planning on either accompanying them or coming within a very short time.

Mrs. A. F. Swift is at home from Huntington Beach where she has been with her daughter, Mrs. Will Jones, who was ill for some days. Mrs. Jones is now recovered but the family has just gone under quarantine, it has been learned, as their eldest daughter, Velma Jean is ill and it has not been determined at the last report whether she has scarlet fever or chickenpox. The child is not very ill it is stated.

Mrs. E. K. Carter and small daughter of Long Beach were Thursday visitors at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Sam Talbert. Local residents are appreciative of the new roads improved and opened hereabout and are making good use of the fine gravelled road south from Talbert to the new state highway which is now

Prohibit Woman from Spanking Baronet Cousin

LONDON, Dec. 15.—Miss Theresa Mary Agnes Doughty Tichborne will not spank Sir Joseph Tichborne, as she threatened, at least with the permission of the court.

Miss Tichborne claims to be the cousin of the baronet. She is the daughter of a man known as Arthur Orton, who laid claim fifty years ago to the Tichborne family estate, carrying his battle for the properties to the court in a case so famous that even yet it is frequently recounted in titled circles.

Letters written to Sir Joseph by the impostor's daughter, read in court, revealed that she had waged a persistent campaign of attempted extortion against the baronet. She was placed under bond for good behavior for twelve months by the court, with an alternative of six months' imprisonment.

Promising material for Miss Tichborne's designs was supplied by a rumor that Sir Joseph and Lady Tichborne had been taken into custody during a gambling raid and had spent a night in a police station under assumed names. The woman called on Sir Joseph to disprove the rumor, threatening exposure by sending information she claimed to have in her possession to Scotland Yard.

Her letter was ignored, as was a second in similar vein. Then she threatened to broadcast a letter to hotels, clubs, and police containing the following passage:

"My cousin and I not being able to agree on family matters, I have bought a little cane, and I am looking forward to spanking him where all little boys are spanked. One pound reward to the first person who can tell me where I can find him."

A few days later she sent the baronet a letter disclosing her real designs.

"Cousin Joseph," it said, "I have this evening been discussing our case with a friend, and the decision I have come to is that if you will allow me sufficient to live on and settle up at once within the next few days, I will leave you alone in the future."

A letter dispatched still later contained a veiled threat of violence. Sir Joseph's answer was to file charges of libel based on the letter containing the gambling raid rumor.

COAST LINES ARE EATEN BY TIDES

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—The meeting place of land and sea, immortalized by romanticists for its quietude and poetic inspirations, is in reality a great battleground where land and waters meet in a never-ending fight for supremacy according to the bureau of coast and geodetic survey. And, unless the land is given assistance, the superior forces of the seas will capture the American coast, destroying pleasure resorts, carrying with it as captive some of the most fertile farm land.

The physiographer and engineer heeds not the enchanting murmur of lapping waves. Rather do they see rent-up forces being released by every incoming wave to carry on its work of destruction. Every wind and wave which assails the coast leaves its impress, carrying away some of the land.

"It is to them we must ultimately look," declare officials of the bureau, "for a solution to the intricate and perplexing problems of coast evolution."

Unless work of protecting the coast line is expedited, many of the famous pleasure resorts of the country will be endangered, they warn. Too often in some of the mighty battles between land and sea, the enraged waters of the two oceans flanking the United States have been victorious. Costly structures, some a monument to engineering skill, have been swept away.

There is no bureau today making the necessary study of coast erosion and protection, as will ultimately be necessary to devise protective measures. The necessity for centralizing the work is pointed out and it is urged that it be consolidated with the coast and geodetic survey.

Weather Forecasts Are Money Savers

CHICAGO, Dec. 15.—By relying on U. S. weather bureau reports the Field Museum of national history here has saved $10,000 during the past year in fuel bills, W. H. Corning, chief engineer, estimated. Sixteen hundred radiators in the building have to be kept at a uniform temperature of 60 to 67 degrees during visiting hours. Located on a wind-swept elevation facing Lake Michigan, the museum has 1,250,000 feet of exhibition space to keep warm.

Hourly weather forecasts are studied by the institution's engineers who are thereby able to avoid having an overheated building when the temperature outside rises, or vice versa.

DICTOPHONE DIVORCE

BERNE, Switzerland, Dec. 15.—Mrs. Rudolph Lowe came to her husband's office and found him absent. Having some time on her hands, she began to operate his dictophone. From the record then on the machine she heard him use endearing terms to his pretty stenographer. She obtained a divorce the following week.

open to traffic out Huntington Beach way and affords a straight of way to the other up-the-coast towns.

The last seed to be harvested by the California Seed Growers company in this section is going out this week. An acreage on the Greg Harper ranch has been under cultivation by the company which is headed by George Murdoch of Westminster and tomato seed exclusively has been raised.

CHAMBER WILL URGE HIGHER PAY SCHEDULE FOR OFFICERSSanta Ana Patrolmen Get Less Than Majority of Other Cities, ClaimCOMMITTEE IS NAMED TO TALK TO COUNCILIncrease of Compensation
From $145 to $165 a Month Is Suggested

Approving declarations by Sam Hurwitz, local merchant, that salaries of police officers of the city were too low to induce men to remain permanently on the force, the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce has appointed Hurwitz chairman of a committee to discuss with members of the city council possibility of establishing a higher wage for patrolmen.

Pointing out that $145 per month is the highest salary an officer may expect under the present schedule, Hurwitz asserted that with the possible exception of one city, patrolmen here were receiving less pay than men performing a similar service in other cities in the south-land.

Under the schedule here a man entering the service starts with a salary of $115 per month, with a wage increase of $10 per month for each year of service up to three years. He must provide his own uniform and equipment necessary for him to perform his duty—such as revolver, handcuffs, etc., at an expense of approximately $100.

According to M. B. Wellington, a member of the board of directors of the chamber, it was suggested in discussion of the subject by the board, that the initial salary should be $135, with an increase of $10 per month each year until the compensation has reached $165 per month.

"We cannot expect at the present salary that men will become permanent on the police force, for they can make better wages in other lines of endeavor," Wellington said. "The majority of men who take a position on the force do so merely as a convenience for tiding over a temporary situation and leave the service as soon as they find something that offers better pay."

"Everyone knows that on a salary of $115 a month it is almost impossible for a man with a family to live in a respectable home, dress neat, keep clean, and be honest," Hurwitz said. "Any organization which is permanent and is looking for efficiency will not hesitate in paying its men, whose permanency is valuable, a wage which will eliminate the constant search of the employee for something better and the steady ad of 'help wanted' on the part of the employer."

"Is there a unit in our city organization more valuable than the police department? Is there a service rendered by any individual more hazardous than the officer's beat? In spite of the fact that we criticize them whether they 'do' or they 'don't' our wives, daughters and sisters would not be safe on the streets without their protection. Why then should we expect them to work seven days a week, buy their own uniforms, guns and other equipment for the meager sum of $115 per month?"

"Is it any wonder there has been close to fifty changes in the personnel of the police department in the last three years, five or six of them being in the past six months?"

"To start a policeman with $140

Sells Out In

Three years ago D. F. Reed, an apple grower and business man of Spearfish, South Dakota, visited Southern California. As he stepped off the train in Los Angeles at that time he was literally swamped with invitations to all kinds of Spanish hot tamale-chile con carne—free luncheon excursions.

The free lunch idea did not appeal to the visitor, however, and in search of place for a future home he inquired for a place that was not on the route of free-lunch excursion parties. "Go to Santa Ana, but be careful how you drive there have a tough judge down there."

That was three years ago—today Reed moved into his new Santa Ana home. He arrived here last week from his hometown in the middle west and registered at the Rossmore hotel. While in Spearfish he disposed of his apple orchard and other business holdings.

'HARD LUCK' TALE
TOLD BY DAIRYMAN

The nursery yarn of the fire that burnt the stick and the water that put out the fire, etc., contained no more harrowing narrative than that of Krist Knegevic, Westminister dairyman, who today summed up his business and financial misadventures in the form of a $1,026 damage claim in the superior court.

The "breaks" certainly went against Krist, according to his story, when he launched into the dairy business last February on a 23-acre ranch of G. N. and H. E. Rexroad, a part of the former Bixby holdings. His suit against the Rexroads blamed them for his troubles and asked $1,026 damages; also an additional $1,000 if they are unable to carry out their contract with him.

The Rexroads, he asserts, promised to provide stanchion space for his cows, and further agreed to provide a windmill or electric pump to assure an ample water supply. Yes, Krist admits that water was necessary to his milk business. But he says that it was for the cows, and to cool the milk.

The stable room was supposed to be ready by May 1, but the weeks went by without it, and Knegevic had to postpone purchase of 20 head of cows. Then the foot-and-mouth epidemic struck and the quarantine hit Krist a blow—somewhat of a wallop in fact. He couldn't import his cattle then, even though the stable was provided. It was along in July when he got his cows established. For the 87 days delay that might have been avoided, he asks $726 damages.

The promise about the windmill was also broken, he claims. There was a delay of 50 days before the windmill appeared, and he wants $100 damages for his services in hauling water meanwhile. Then the windmill wouldn't pump enough water and on 25 different days his tank went dry. Another bill for $112.25 for hauling water.

More of the nursery tale. No windmill, no pumping. No pumping, no water. No water, tank goes dry. Tank goes dry, cows start going dry, too. Knegevic claims another $85.50 for reduced milk supply and quality, the latter due to absence of water for cooling.

Thus the dairyman summed up his injuries and his claims for compensation.

In the English navy in olden times when a ship captain wished to discharge his crew, he had to give them notice of his intention by taking away the tablecloth three meals in succession.

Defends Schools Against Charge
By Economist

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Dec. 15.—The public schools alone cannot be blamed if boys or girls go bad. The home and factory must share equal responsibility with the schools in training youth.

With these declarations, Dr. C. A. Prosser of Minneapolis today vigorously defended the public school system against the indictment made by Roger Babson, nationally known economist, at an earlier session.

Babson charged the schools with killing the initiative of the pupil and failure to teach principles of honesty, integrity and industry.

BIG CHICAGO RY. IS TO BE ELECTRIFIED

CHICAGO, Dec. 15.—Assuring speedy transportation services for one of Chicago's most congested areas, the Illinois Central railroad announced that orders had been placed for equipment for electric motor cars to be used on 37 miles of its suburban lines, on which the daily volume of traffic is as heavy as in any metropolitan district of the nation. The electrified sections are to be in operation, according to present plans, not later than July 1, 1926. The cost of the electrical equipment now ordered will be $2,600,000.

The sections to be electrically equipped at the present time are those between Randolph street, Chicago and Matteson, Illinois, the southern terminal of the main suburban zone; Sixty-seventh street and South Chicago, and Kensington and Blue Island. Electrical equipment has been ordered for a total of 120 motor cars and 120 trailers. The power supply will be 1500 volts, direct current.

On the sections to be electrified, The Illinois Central operates 2 to 12 miles of double track, nine miles of four-track line and three and three-fourths miles of six-track road. The number of passengers carried on the suburban lines of the Illinois Central is approximately 25,000,000 a year.

It is certain that this undertaking will rank with the foremost projects of the sort among American railroads in recent years. It may be regarded as bringing still nearer the time when electrical operation will replace steam over a large proportion of railroad mileage in this country.

The change from steam operation on the sections to be electrified will considerably reduce the smoke nuisance within the limits of the city. The electrified area will extend a distance of 23 miles south of the loop. All suburban trains will be operated electrically. The cars and trailers will be of steel, each two-car unit weighing 112 tons, and designed for a maximum speed of 63 miles an hour. The cars will each seat 84 passengers.

(BY OLIVE LOPEZ)

Today 1,200 state and local tuberculosis associations are releasing billions of seals for the Christmas sale. Dr. Robert A. Peers of Colfax, president of the California Tuberculosis association, in an interview today.

Since the first charity stamp in 1862 when the funds were used for the Civil war sufferers, the idea has rapidly spread. In 1892 there was a revival for the stamp for charity in Europe, and in 1904 a Danish postmaster launched the first Christmas seal sale. The funds were used for a tuberculosis sanatorium. Later, in 1907, continued Dr. Peers, Jacob Riis helped launch the first seal sale in America. At that time the seal was used by the American Red Cross and the National Tuberculosis association, but in 1919, they agreed to transfer the seal to the National Tuberculosis association. Over $25,000,000 has been raised for national, state and local tuberculosis work through the medium of the seal. Besides an extensive, state-wide program, the seventy-seven locals in California carry on an intensive program in their own communities. Up to last year Orange county could lay claim to very little in the way of combating this dread disease. Dr. John Wehrly was the heroic worker, who every year put out the little seals and put the pitiful appeals for their purchase in the papers.

There has always been plenty of money for the protection of animals and trees, but none for our sickly babies and adults battling with the great white plague.

But last year there was a change. People became aroused to the danger. A health nurse was employed, and Mrs. Amelia Meagher came here to find a wide-open field. She started out to visit schools and other institutions, held chest clinics and talked. Now she is able to tell people of great accomplishments and especially of that health camp in the big out of doors in the lovely canyon of the Trabuco, but this year when the summertime comes, we shall send more, and you, the great-hearted people of Orange county can say: "I helped to give at least one child a chance!" Give this Christmas gift to the unfortunate children of your community, and when the Christmas chimes ring on December 25, you will hear them say: "Inasmuch as you have done this unto one of the least of these My brethren, ye have done unto Me."

EXTOL CHARMS OF CALIFORNIA
ON XMAS CARDSClimatic and Other Boosts Are Interpolated With Seasonable Greetings

California is, it has been said, the biggest advertised state in the union. This is fully borne out by the thousands of postcards decorated with Christmas trees, Santa Claus and many other decorations seen only at Yuletide, which now are on sale in Santa Ana stores.

The cards are far different from any Christmas post cards seen in the east, in that all bear the inscription "Christmas Greetings from California," and the word "California" is on the post card in as many places as it is possible to put it.

Even the verses which generally decorate a Christmas post card, wishing a Merry Christmas, or a Happy New Year, are in this case, boosters for the Golden state and every one gives the receiver the information that the sender is perfectly contented in California this Christmas, and that California Christmas is vastly different from any kind of a Christmas in the East.

One of the verses on a certain kind of card that can be purchased is very much to the point: along this line, it is as follows:

"From roses to snow, little card here you go,
With best wishes for Christmas cheer,
And I'm glad you see, it's a card and not me
That takes my wishes this year."

Here is another along the same line which expresses pity for the receiver back in the cold country:

"Dear little postcard, swiftly go,
Back to the land of ice and snow;
And bear this Christmas message please,
To those dear friends of mine who freeze.
Ours California's fine—just listen.
You simply don't know what you're missin'!"

That the coal question in the winter time is not one of a Californian's worries is home out in another Christmas card seen in a window. It reads:

"Old King Cole is a cranky old soul
Because he can't live out here,
For we're warmed with sunshine—don't need any coal,
For Christmas or Happy New Year."

And here is another: "I know all this western chatter,
About the climate sounds like chatter,
But just the same, I want to say
It's a darn nice place on Christmas day."

And still another: "Where the rarest flowers bloom,
Where the sprays of Orange blossoms,
Fill the air with sweet perfume,
Where the folks are friendly ever,
Where there's the gloom, Oh, never, never,
Out in California."

Murder Verdict
Carries Execution

CHICAGO, Dec. 15.—For the first time since February, a jury here has brought in a murder verdict calling for the gallows. The verdict was brought in Friday night in the case of Russell Scott, Canadian, for the murder of Joseph Maurer, 19, in a holdup of a drug store.

Judge Thomas Lynch congratulated the jury for its "courage" in calling for the death penalty in the face of a parade of murder acquittals.

Here are some of the highlights of an interview with Miss Bessie Mae Randall, girl evangelist of the local branch of the Angelus temple:

Mother's advice is always best but we sometimes do not see until it is too late.

I used to go out in the yard in the moonlight and think and think and pray. I seemed to be nearer Jesus out there under the heavens.

As I began to pray for the Holy Spirit to abide in my heart, the young man to whom I was engaged came before me so plainly. "Are you willing to give him up?" the Lord asked. I answered, "Lord, you know I love him and we are going to be married some day." But the Lord said very plainly, "Put him on the altar also and don't withhold anything from me." And I answered, "Yes, Lord, I will give him up and everything for you."

For one person in Santa Ana Christmas will mean more than it ever has before.

Two years ago she was a flapper with her rolled hose, rouged lips, arched eyebrows and the attendant philosophy of the flapper.

Today she is pastor of the Santa Ana branch of the Angelus temple, the Church of the Four squares Gospel, Aimee Semple McPherson, pastor-evangelist.

She has her own church and her work of redeeming souls, according to members of her congregation, is going ahead at a marvelous rate.

Last week she celebrated in a happy manner two anniversaries, one the twenty-first anniversary of her birth, the other the second anniversary of her conversion.

Today she said:

"My life was just the same as that of the ordinary girl of today. I loved dancing and jazz, in fact I danced every night, attended late dinner parties, and did most everything the modern girl does."

Her name is Miss Bessie Mae Randall.

"I was born in a little town near Ft. Worth, Texas," she continued. "As is the case with many Southern girls, I was brought up to be waited upon, loved and petted. I did not learn to do much about the house or for myself."

The desire for pretty clothes was the thing which started her on the path which led to her conversion, she explained. Ignoring the advice of her silver-haired mother she packed her trunk and with a girl friend sought a gay life in Ft. Worth.

"Though I tried all the world had to offer, it did not satisfy. Perhaps I had a good time while at the

POLICE HEAD SAYS ROBBERS HARD PRESSED

Urgent need for Christmas money is the reason by police officials for the daring of burglars and "men who walk right in the front door" of unsuspecting homes, following the report of two more daring robberies yesterday and early today in Santa Ana.

While Mrs. C. F. Randall, of 721 South Main street, was busy working in her back yard at 10 a. m. today, an unidentified white man walked into the front door and took $5 in cash from Mrs. Randall's purse, which was on the front room table. He then took a valuable radio set under his arm and started out the front door.

A small son of Mrs. Randall walked into the room where the man was working. Turning on the child, he asked: "Can I get a drink of water?" The child, unaccustomed to seeing strangers in the house, rushed to his mother and police believe, when the man heard Mrs. Randall approaching, quickly made his exit. Nothing beside the money was reported as missing.

A gold watch, valued at $75, $30 in money and a scarf pin valued at $5 was stolen from the home of Frank S. Adams, 527 East Washington, some time yesterday afternoon. At the time of the robbery Mrs. Adams was in another part of the house.

According to the story Adams told the police, the burglar entered the house either through a door which was not locked or through a window, which was found unfastened. He rifled clothes hanging in a closet, taking the money and watch from the pocket of a suit belonging to Adams. The pin was picked up from a dresser in the room.

Discovery of the robbery was not made until several hours later.

Burglars who gained entrance to the building by breaking a window and then turning the key in the door, stole merchandise valued at $150 from the Bradley and Walborn pool hall, at Costa Mesa, some time last night, according to a report made at the sheriff's office early today.

Prizes on two punch boards were stolen from the pool hall, including a kodak, gold watch, pipe set, knives, pearls, cigarette case

$10,000 Obtained By Auto Bandits

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 15.—Money and diamonds valued at $10,000 were stolen from Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Green early today by two automobile bandits who blew a police whistle and used an officer's badge in the robbery.

Green, a wealthy hotel man, was returning with his wife from a roadhouse dinner party when a shrill blast from the whistle caused Green to stop. The two robbers hoped from another car and stripped the couple of one seven carat diamond, one that weighed two and one-half carats, other jewelry and money.

HEMMI GOES ON TRIAL TOMORROW

J. U. Hemmi, attorney and real estate operator of Torrance, one of the men involved in the mail sack robbery at Anaheim, on December 27, 1923, will go on trial in the federal court, Los Angeles, tomorrow, on a charge of receiving and concealing funds which he knew to have been stolen from the United States mails.

J. Lloyd Findlay, one of the men involved, recently was released from the Orange county jail. A. R. Abernathy, former teacher of Anaheim and the alleged "brains" of the robbery plot, is now serving time at Leavenworth prison, it was said.

Findlay was messenger between the Anaheim post office and the depot and a mail pouch containing $22,050 in currency, and a quantity of Liberty bonds, was taken from Findlay's machine. Alleging that he had been "double-crossed" by those in on the robbery, Findlay turned state's evidence.

LOYAL TO KING
ROME, Dec. 15.—Members of the Ex-Combatants' association have passed resolutions reiterating their support of the Fascist government and loyalty to King Victor Emmanuel.

and a beaded bag.

Deputy Sheriff Dan Adams investigated the robbery today.

Not forgetting the holiday smokes, a thoughtful burglar helped himself to four cartons of cigarettes, after breaking a window and entering the Martin Service station at El Modena, early today according to a report filed at the sheriff's office.

Mrs. J. T. Cohn, wife of a minister at El Modena is reported as having seen the man enter the store. A description of the thief is in the hands of the authorities.

OFFER BOUNTIES IN ANTI-RAT CAMPAIGN

PLACENTIA, Dec. 15.—"Rat Week" is to be Placentia's newest form of improvement, it was disclosed at the meeting of the Merchants' division of the Chamber of Commerce here when plans were formulated for the complete extermination of the rodents, which are said to reside in considerable quantities in some districts of the town.

Charles E. Lee, secretary of the Chamber, read before the meeting a communication in regard to the extermination of the rats. It was said that there is an act in the state legislature which demands each person, individually, to keep his property free from rodents, and if the grounds are infested, to cause their removal at once. Lee also said that the act provided for the supervisors, the city council or the health officers to enter upon private property, in order to destroy the rodents, their services being charged to the property owners or lessees.

A bounty was set upon the heads of the luckless rodents, when the Placentia Athletic association generously offered to pay the price of one cent per head for the first three hundred rats brought to their headquarters during the "Rat Week," which is to commence on December 1 and "ratlessly" end on December 28.

a month would mean an increase in the budget of the department of about $4000 a year—is there any one of the 5000 taxpayers who would object to paying 30 cents more a year in order that we may have the best men on the force and that they may become permanent instead of transient employees?

Hurwitz announced today that he had asked E. T. McFadden and J. Fred Parsons to serve on the committee with him. In co-operation with Wellington, attorney for the chamber, the committee will make investigations as to salaries paid in other cities of the southland, and later will take up with the council the matter of more pay for local officers.

PARMA, Italy, Dec. 15.—A large section of the railroad freight yards here was destroyed by fire today, total damages mounting up to several million lire.

GIRL PASTOR IS SUCCESS AS LEADER

dance or party lasted, but, oh, the emptiness of it all afterwards, there was no joy or real peace in my heart.

"I was continually seeking happiness in the worldly places of amusement but after all the pleasures the world has to offer are nothing but disappointments," Miss Randall declared.

After a time in Ft. Worth, the girl evangelist-to-be returned home but again ignored her mother's advice and returned to the city.

Today she said:

"Girls, listen to your mother's advice. She knows what she is talking about. In my little foolish heart I thought mother didn't know and just didn't want me to have a good time and enjoy life. But she did know and wanted the best for me and how I thank God that her prayers followed me."

Companions Were Wealthy

"The girl friends I associated with were the daughters of wealthy parents and I thought I was in the best of society. People of wealth and fashion, and then my ideals of the better class and because I could not keep up with them in dress and fashion, going to all the dances and late dinners, it made me miserable. There was always something lacking. I was never content and never really happy."

"I think most girls will agree with me there is never a ball or a party that is just exactly pleasing. Perhaps one is dressed in the most beautiful gown, perhaps one is the most popular girl, as all girls like to be, but still there is something lacking, a peace and happiness that the world cannot give."

"Perhaps the very one we had planned on giving us all his compliments is giving all his attention to another. Dear hearts, none of these things last. They perish with the handling. Why, oh why, do we waste our time with the false things of life when we can have the real gems for the asking?"

Miss Randall was converted at the revival of Raymond F. Ritchey in Ft. Worth, December 10, 1923. Later she was assisted by friends in entering the training school of Mrs. McPherson and was assigned the Santa Ana field.

In a few short weeks after her coming her workers built a tabernacle and it is the plan to some day have a miniature Angelus temple in this city, she revealed.

In regard to the apparent laxity of young people toward religion Miss Randall believes:

"The only way to solve this problem is to make religion as attractive, not with the material things of the world, oh no, never compromise and let the worldliness enter the church, such as dance halls and moving pictures, but bring in a real salvation that is able to save to the uttermost. I say preach the whole Bible from cover to cover, not leaving out any part. I say bring back the old time religion and the old time power."

See Young People Converted
"Since I have begun the ministry I have been blessed by seeing hundreds of young people kneel at the altar and be converted. I believe many women become so taken up with home duties that they do not take time to attend church and Sunday school. Many more young people would come if encouraged."

"Flappers are not bad. They only want to be in style when they roll their hose and smoke. The only way to be in style is for them to be converted."

"I would not advise anyone to enter the ministry unless called of God. In this two years of service I have had more real joy and happiness than all my other years of life put together."

Miss Randall added that although she is a woman preacher she enjoys horseback riding and swimming.

She looks forward to the new year as a bigger and better year of service.

That's another reason she says her Christmas is going to be filled to overflowing with happiness and thanksgiving.

Educators Inspect Riverside College

First hand information as to the workings of the Riverside Junior college were brought back today to this city by City Superintendent of Schools A. A. Cranston and Principal D. K. Hammond of the Santa Ana junior college and high school, both of whom are members of the special committee appointed by County Superintendent R. P. Mitchell to investigate the advisability and feasibility of establishing a county junior college in this city.

While the Santa Ana school men were satisfied that the Riverside institution operated under conditions more favorable than those obtaining here, there were some features that did not appeal to them.

While the high school and junior college are housed in separate buildings in Riverside, the two plants are located opposite each other on the same street, Superintendent Cranston remarked. As a result there is a constant intercourse between the students of the two institutions, which is accentuated by the use of a common cafeteria and other agencies.

This condition of affairs, Mr. Cranston observed, is not conducive to maintenance of that type of discipline and moral required in high school grades as the students of these grades naturally are inclined to take to themselves the privileges accorded students in the junior college. Efforts to draw a dividing line of conduct often result in resentment, ill-feeling and lack of interest on the part of high school students, which in turn is reflected in poor results and economic loss, the school official declared.

Jackie Coogan Presented With Little Brother

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 15.—"The Kid" has a kid brother. Jackie Coogan, whose screen artistry has made him a fortune before he is old enough to know what money is for, was today running up and down the block, telling all his boy and girl friends about the new baby at his house.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Coogan, parents of the young star, were the first to welcome the newcomer.

Jackie's little relative has coal black hair and dark eyes. "Bet he'll be another Charlie Chaplin," was "the kid's" comment.

NAME COMMITTEES FOR JURY PROBE

Under the direction of Foreman L. G. Swales, committees of the county grand jury today started their tasks of inspecting books, buildings, highways and other public affairs and property.

Announcement of the committees was made by Swales, who at the same time, stated that anyone having complaints or other matters to lay before the grand jury, will have opportunity each Tuesday at 10 a. m., in the grand jury headquarters, which are established in the chambers of the harbor commission at the hall of records.

Following are the committees: Board of supervisors—Alfred Leech, Mrs. E. McDonald, A. G. Miller, Miriam S. Porter.

Comer, sheriff, public administrator—John Adams, William Knuth.

CONTINUE TALE OF WILD RAID BY 'KID' MCCOY

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 15.—Another version of the "underwear party" at which Kid McCoy was "host" the morning following the death of Mrs. Teresa Mors, his ninth love, was revealed today as the prosecution continued in its effort to prove the former pugilist a murderer.

Lewis S. Jones, attorney for Mrs. Mors, resumed the witness stand and continued his narrative of events in the antique shop of Mors, Inc., which McCoy raided, forced three men to disrobe, robbed seven persons and shot three.

"I picked up V. C. Eden, business advisor of Mrs. Mors, and we went to the store about 9 o'clock," Jones testified.

"The shop was not open. We waited around outside and five minutes later McCoy drove up in Mrs. Mors' automobile. He was unshaven and his clothing was ruffled. There was a distinct odor of liquor on his breath."

"He burst out in a lot of oaths and started quarreling about his having to drive Mrs. Mors around town, the same thing he was angry about the night before."

"What do you think I am, a damned chauffeur?" he said. "Emden told him that was no way to feel about it, and that he had a good job for him."

"Aw, to hell with your job," McCoy said. "I don't like this whispering all the time behind my back."

"I put my arms on his shoulders to quiet him and felt a revolver holster under his arm."

"About this time, Miss Francis Pearlstein, an employee of the shop, arrived and opened the store. Sam Stearn, another employee, also came up."

"Good morning, Selby," Stearn said.

"Go to hell, you bootlegger," was McCoy's answer.

"Then we all went inside and McCoy closed the door and started his wild raid."

Albert A. Mors, divorced husband of the dead woman, appeared in court this morning, after three days of absence due, the prosecution said, to a slight pneumatic attack.

McCoy was not smiling as bailiffs escorted him into the courtroom. He did not look around with the friendly greeting which he displayed last week, and he was frowning.

After testifying that he tried to quiet McCoy but failed and that the "Kid" kept repeating that he was "looking for Mors," Jones' narrative was halted while attorneys argued again over admission of an account of the raid on the store.

Defense counsel claimed that details of McCoy's actions the morning after Mrs. Mors met death was not pertinent to the charge, while the prosecution declared that it had a distinct bearing on the primal motive back of the alleged slaying.

Judge Charles Crail ruled that Jones' testimony could be admitted, and the questioning continued.

Child Injured by "Unloaded" Rifle

SAN RAFAEL, Cal., Dec. 15.—Another "unloaded" rifle caused the serious wounding of a child here when Vivian Hirshbarren was shot by Fred Butler, 14, when he pointed a gun he was cleaning at her and pulled the trigger.

STORMS, COLD TO COVER MID-WEST

CHICAGO, Dec. 15.—Snow and sharply lower temperatures for the Middle West were predicted today by the United States weather bureau here. Storms now sweeping western Canada and Alaska are bound in this direction, the bureau announced.

Have, Mont., and many Canadian points reported sub-zero temperatures today. The mercury stood at 14 degrees below zero at Have, 20 below at Prince Albert and Swift Current, Sask., and 32 below at White River, Ontario.

The northwestern disturbance will advance southward and to the east accompanied by snow and decidedly colder weather, the bureau said.

CHIDED GIRL SLEW FATHER, IS REPORT

AUBURN, N. Y., Dec. 15.—Miss Suzanne Riley, 19, was arraigned at Owasso on a charge of murder in the second degree for the killing of her father, Charles Riley, at their home in Moravia on October 23.

She waived examination and was taken to the Cayuga county jail to await action of the January grand jury.

The arrest of the girl, which occurred in the Auburn city hospital, came as the result of her confession officials announced, that she had struck her father with a hollow iron bar while he was lying on a couch in the kitchen.

She said her father had scolded her, according to the story told by the officials, because her elder sister had gone to Moravia to have some teeth extracted.

HERMIT LIKES JAZZ
MANCHESTER, England, Dec. 15.—"Jazz music is a greater artistic achievement than the classics," said Herman Wade, known as the "Hermit of the Hills," who recently returned to London after 13 years spent in seclusion.

"Jazz music awakens a response in the soul that makes other and supposedly finer music seem cold in comparison," he declared.

NOT AFTER MOROCCO

AMERICA NOW HAS FASHIONS ALL ITS OWN

No Longer Dependent Upon Paris, Declares Miss Peggy Hamilton

"America is no longer dependent on Paris for fashions."
"Advertising is the unseen force that controls our very life. Without it no merchant or community can expect to make a success."
These were the keynotes of the talks given Miss Peggy Hamilton, fashion expert, and A. Carmen Smith, widely known advertising man, both of Los Angeles, at the dinner meeting of the Santa Ana Advertising club at St. Ann's Inn.
"We are as capable of creating styles as the French," Miss Hamilton declared. "The buyers of America are the originators of many of the fashions that come from Paris. They go over there, find a model that pleases them, alter it and it comes to this country as a French creation."
"Paris is losing her hold on the world. The French buyers are beginning to buy models in America.
The spirit in France is not one of love for us. They feel that we have to buy their goods whether we want them or not. America is no longer dependent on Paris for fashions."

Miss Hamilton also related her experiences in meeting the king of England and the Prince of Wales.
Mr. Smith, past president of the Los Angeles Advertising club and a vice president of the Pacific Coast Advertising Clubs association, declared that the advertising community is the progressive community.

"Advertising influences our habits of work, of play, of dress and of thinking," declared Mr. Smith. "It is the unseen force that controls our very life."

"Show me a newspaper and I will tell you within a few minutes whether the merchants are progressive or not. The advertising community is the progressive community and the city as well as merchants should advertise."

Mr. Smith told of his impressions while traveling in Europe last summer. The countries that have ignored advertising are the ones that are centuries behind America, he said.

The smaller city needs the advertising club more so than the larger city, the speaker declared, in suggesting that the Santa Ana club should become one of the most influential organizations in the community.

In a drawing conducted by President R. L. Bisby, a handkerchief carried by Miss Hamilton when she was introduced to the king of England was won by Mrs. Eli H.
Singer. A picture of the fashion expert was won by Don Andrews.

CITES FIGURES ON JAPANESE IN CALIFORNIA

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Dec. 15.— Japanese constitute less than three per cent of the population in California but produce 69 per cent of the five basic crops and 57 per cent of the nine principal crops.
It is shown in a survey of race relations on the Pacific coast completed recently. Ray Lyman Wilbur, president of Stanford University, is the chairman of the committee which made the survey.

Every phase of the Oriental problem in California was thoroughly probed by the survey, which found a marked decrease in the ratio of births among the Japanese following the stoppage of "picture bride" immigration in 1920.

The vocational problem of the American-born Oriental is a great obstacle, according to the survey.
"Even when graduating from our universities with honors in chemistry, engineering, etc., he can secure only inferior positions," the report states. "His American education unfits him for success in Asia."

Discussing the disillusion which the Japanese immigrant meets within this country, the survey finds that "from his detention at the immigration station to his discovery that Orientals are not allowed in respectable rooming districts, barber shops nor in the Y.
W. C. A. dormitories or swimming pools, the land of his dreams rapidly falls before the America of his experience."

In investigation of the two Japanese colonies in California at Florida and Livingston proved to the committee that the Florida colony has a very unsavory reputation. There was no criticism of the Livingston colony.

2-GUN SHERIFF OF OLD TIMES HAS CASHED IN

DENVER, Dec. 15.—Jim Marshall, last of the two-gun sheriffs,
"cashed in" Saturday.
Jim didn't die with his boots on,
as perhaps he would have wished.
Cancer caused his death.
Before he was a sheriff, Jim was an old time "bad man." When gambling was an institution he was a gambler—a "two gun" gambler.

His activities in that line made and lost fortunes for him. At one time he controlled gambling in El Paso Del Norte, the old Juarez, Mexico.

At another time he owned and operated a string of race horses and was a familiar figure on Kentucky tracks and others in the west.

When the gold boom struck
Colorado, Marshall came west.
Cripple Creek first knew him.
While a bartender in a saloon there he was appointed chief of police.
The guns he carried on his hips were the only law that mining town knew.
He appointed himself a committee of one to meet every incoming stage coach and scrutinize the newcomers it brought in. One day he recognized two professional safe blowers among its passengers.

"I'm sorry to see you boys here," he observed. "I'm the law now and I'm chasing you out of town."

"If we'd known you were here, Jim, we wouldn't have come, but we're broke and thought we might pull a couple of jobs here and then turn a big trick down south," they said.

Jim gave them $75 and told them to take the next stage out.
They did.

Defied Police.
Twenty-three years ago Marshall stood in the door of his "Nineteenth street house" one of Denver's most notorious gambling dens, and defied a squad of police to enter.
The police started upstairs and Jim fired two charges of buckshot over their heads. Undaunted they came on. Then Jim, clipped the nose of one of them with his revolver.

They fled and the merriment in Jim's place continued.
Up until the time of his death,
Jim believed he was right in resisting these officers. It was his contention that he could run his place as he pleased.

ATTRACTIONS AT LOCAL THEATERS

Movie Chatterbox

BY JACK JUNGMEYER

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 10.—Readers of this movie feature may have gathered the impression that stars, producers and directors are the important folk in pictures. Well, they do seem at times to be essential, but for real importance let me present the studio office boy in general—and Jimmy Lee in particular.

Jimmy, I feel safe in predicting, is one of those future personages of screenland about whom I shall be proud to say some years hence, "I knew him when." Jimmy goes out and gets what he wants. And he knows the movies can't get very much further without him.

Potential film queens and discouraged cinema sheiks may learn a lot from this 14-year-old boy about breaking into the realm of their desire. He can tell them from experience that perseverance and sheer gumption count for more than anything else.

Ran Away From Home
About nine months ago Jimmy Lee ran away from home. He rode the rods from his midwestern town to Hollywood to find that he had considerable competition in the desire to be a star. He besieged the studio gates, tasting the lordly indifference of office boys and gatekeepers. It made him angry. And when Jimmy gets mad something's got to give way.

At the United Studios a group of movie cowboys were pulling stakes for Texas. The inquisitive had learned what it was all about. The actors were going on the "Sundown" location. Riding the rods to El Paso was no harder than beating it to Hollywood. So in due course of time Jimmy appeared at First National headquarters in El Paso.

But "location" was 60 miles across the prairie. The boy spotted an auto truck bound for the camp, stowed away under a tarpaulin, and, again in due time, presented himself to the movie-makers.

Remains in Camp
First they filled the determined boy with hot Irish stew and then deliberated his fate by court-martial, with Earl Hudson, production chief, presiding. To be returned to El Paso, given over to police and sent back home—that seemed inevitable until Jimmy began to talk.

He was a demon for work. Why couldn't he stay, build-fires, run errands? His boyish enthusiasm won. Nine weeks he remained in camp, making himself useful, indispensable. And, when the company departed, Jimmy was as much part of it as any of the actors and technicians.

Jimmy rode to Hollywood in a Pullman and ate his fill in the diner. The actors spoke to him without condescension, as one of their peers. Why not? Hadn't he made the grade? Wasn't he to be the office boy; in some measure a ruler of movie destinies? Aye!

It must be narrated that Jimmy is at times a little stiff with other young applicants for movie jobs, as once his kind were with him, but a young man who is resolved some days to be a great executive, bossing stars and directors—he must maintain his dignity.

Will See Results of Tree Thinning
The walnut growers department of the Orange County Farm bureau is arranging a field meeting and tour for walnut growers of Orange county to see the actual results and benefits of orchard thinning, according to announcement of S. W. Stanley, chairman of the department. Actual operations will be observed in two groves in the removal of trees, which is being done at the present time, and groves will be visited where production records have actually increased as a result of proper thinning methods.

The problem of proper spacing of walnut trees in the old groves is considered a vital one in the walnut industry. Figures compiled by the county agricultural agent have shown that the industry in Orange county alone faces a loss of a half million dollars annually due to close planting.

The walnut thinning tour will be made at 10 o'clock December 16. The growers will assemble at the Lambert and Wells grove, corner McFadden and Lyon streets, one mile south and one mile east of Santa Ana, where actual thinning operations are going on at the present time. An invitation to attend this meeting is extended to all growers in the county.

Juniors to Debate City Manager Plan
Education as well as entertainment is promised at the session of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at Ketter's cafe tonight. A debate on the city manager form of government, with Jack Wallace and Stanley Goodie taking the affirmative and William Iverson and "Scoop" Scovel the negative, is scheduled.

"Schoolmaster" Lyle Anderson stated today that all "pupils" who are late will be compelled to recite the alphabet backwards and stand in the corner with a dunce hat prominently displayed.

Rudolph Valentino and Helen D'Algy in a scene from "A Sainted Devil," current attraction at the West End theater.

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS

YOST—Vaudeville (five acts) and "The Battling Orioles," with Glenn Tryon.

WALKER—Earle Wallace Players in "The Hottentot," and "The Silent Accuser," with Eleanor Boardman.

HELEN D'ALGY IN FILM WITH VALENTINO

Helen D'Algy, charming dark-eyed, raven-haired beauty from Madrid, has the leading feminine role opposite Rudolph Valentino, in "A Sainted Devil," now showing at the West End theater.

Helen's family left Spain for South America when she was very young, and she and her brother (he has a good role in the cast of "A Sainted Devil") got the stage bug and joined a stock company in Buenos Aires. The girl became an extremely popular actress locally on both stage and screen.

Coming to this country a little over a year ago, Helen met with quite a series of disappointments until Flo Ziegfeld saw her. He was so struck with Miss D'Algy that he immediately signed her up, and she put in a full season with his famous "Follies."

Then followed another attempt at the motion picture game, and her experience in the "Follies" stood her in good stead this time. She was signed for an important part in "Lend Me Your Husband" and did so well in the role that she was given good parts in "The Fool" and "Let No Man Put Asunder."

Then followed Paramount's "The Side Show of Life."

BLACKMAIL CASE IS TOLD BY WOMAN

The story of the arrest of Mrs. Ida May Zimmerman, Fullerton divorcee, charged with driving a car while intoxicated and failing to render aid after an automobile accident, several months ago, in Los Angeles, was yesterday dragged again into the limelight when an attorney for Mrs. Zimmerman, reported a bold attempt, which was partially successful, to blackmail his client out of $2000.

Several months ago, Mrs. Zimmerman and her chauffeur were arrested while driving to Los Angeles from her home in Fullerton, and charged with failing to render aid and driving while intoxicated. The chauffeur plead guilty, and Mrs. Zimmerman's case was dismissed. Mrs. Zimmerman was not in court at the time and her chauffeur was given ninety days in jail.

Mrs. Zimmerman's attorney failed to notify her of the outcome of the case, and she was of the opinion that it was still pending.

According to the report made of the blackmailing yesterday, two men called at the home of the wealthy divorcee, last Tuesday, represented themselves as police officers of Los Angeles, and emphasized the fact that they were "influential with the court." They also told her that the judge was planning to send her to San Quentin.

Not knowing that her case had been dismissed, Mrs. Zimmerman was on the verge of hysterics and when the men agreed to use their "influence with the court" for the sum of $2000, Mrs. Zimmerman informed her lawyer that she paid them $600 on account and that they insisted she keep the matter quiet.

"THE BATTLING ORIOLES"

AT YOST TONIGHT

"The Battling Orioles," the new six reel comedy that is now being unwound at the Yost theater, is a modern comedy but for a few delightful minutes it takes us back to the year of 1874 when the Battling Orioles, who figure prominently in the modern story, were the most belligerent baseball team in suits.

This episode, which is as funny as looking over the old family album, pictures the demons of the diamond in action. Also it illustrates the decorative foliage that adorned the face of each young man of that period and which apparently answered the perplexing question in 1874 of "What the Well Dressed Man Will Wear."

This exhibition of whiskers is worth going miles to see. It is delicious satire.

From this assemblage of animated tinctypes the story jumps a span of fifty years and shows the now aged Orioles safely ensconced in their luxurious New York clubhouse. They are suffering from gout and grouch, the fighting spirit has flitted away and the one time terrors are as meek as lambs. Into this assemblage comes Commy Tucker, son of the only missing member of the original nine, on a special mission of spreading sunshine and laughter but his efforts to cheer them up and make them forget their decrepitude is without result and in desperation they order him from the club.

PIPES IN TURKEY
CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec. 15.—An epidemic of pipe smoking has swept Turkey. Sales of pipes have increased 300 per cent in Constantinople alone within a period of two years, reports of tobacco dealers show. Other forms of smoking similarly have decreased in popularity.

DOG TYPEWRITERS
HAMBURG, Germany, Dec. 15.—"Fritz," a dog owned by a Hamburg butcher, is believed to be the only canine stenographer in the world. He has been taught to write the name Fritz on the keyboard of a typewriter, and also the sentence, "I am a dog." His typing is said to be perfect.

FAMOUS DOG IN PICTURE AT WALKER THEATER

The absurdity of claims that animals in motion pictures are beaten and abused in order to get them to perform is pointed out by Edward Faust, the owner and trainer of Peter the Great, the famous German police dog appearing in "The Silent Accuser," which comes to Walker's theater today for a four-day engagement.

Faust illustrated his point by striking at the dog with a club. The dog did not cringe or move. "If I had beaten that dog in training him he would have cringed when I struck at him," he said. "Peter has never been struck with a club, and has not even learned to fear it."

Faust also points out that the dog would have killed him long ago if he had abused it, for one of Peter's tricks is to leap at his trainer's throat. Faust also lays flat on the ground, and permits the dog to fasten his teeth in his throat. The dog has been trained to do this without leaving even a mark.

Peter has proved the value of the right kind of training by his work in "The Silent Accuser," which Chester M. Franklin directed and adapted to the screen with the assistance of Frank O'Connor from Jack Boyle's story. Eleanor Boardman, Raymond McKee and Earle Wallace head the cast.

VALENTINO'S LATEST FILM AT WEST END

"A Sainted Devil," Rudolph Valentino's second picture since his return to the screen, is the current attraction at the West End theater.

With an excellent supporting cast, a story of dash and color, and rich settings which depict the Argentine and life in the Buenos Aires, "A Sainted Devil" is said to surpass even "Monsieur Beaucaire," which was received by critics and public alike with great acclaim. In this picture, which Forrest Halsey adapted from Rex Beach's story, "Rope's End," Valentino portrays the role of Don Alonzo Castro, a spirited young South American who travels up and down the scale of love and who fights at the drop of the hat for the woman he loves.

Helen D'Algy has the role of Julietta, a dark-eyed, raven-haired beauty who captures all the space in Don Alonzo's heart despite the efforts of Carlotta, played by Nita Naldi, Dona Florencia, Dagmar Godowsky, and Carmelita, Louise Lagrange, who try to win him away. George Siegman has the colorful role of El Tigre, the wild bandit of the pampas, and other members of the cast are Antonio D'Algy, Jean Del Val, Roger Lytton, Isabel West, Raphael Bongini, Frank Montgomery, William Betts, Edward Elkus, A. De Rosa, Ann Brody, Evelyn Axzell and Marie Diller.

In the picture Valentino is given an opportunity to do the Argentine Tango for which he has gained considerable reputation and he has fights galore with bandits and bad men of the Argentine.

The hacienda life of the Argentine is shown in this production as well as the smart life of Buenos Aires, the Paris of the Americas.

MOTHERS SET EXAMPLE
LONDON, Dec. 15.—"Dancing, drinking, unreligious mothers are the cause of the looseness of the present generation," declared the Rev. Hartley Glass in a talk before the Mothers' club. He had no sooner made this statement than he was hissed from the speaker's table and forced to retire.

Financial and Market News

WALL ST. JOURNAL

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—Easily the outstanding feature of today's financial market was the handling of a $1,000,000,000 turnover in money with the slightest flurry in rates. Instead of hardening in the face of huge operations in connection with heavy treasury financing and the final tax payment of the year, call money actually eased off to 3 per cent in the afternoon after being tentatively supplied at 3 1/2 per cent through the first four hours.

This notable performance caused Wall Street to ask what would happen next month when the money market is normally easy as a result of the inflow from interests and dividend disbursements.

The market closed higher. Closing prices included: U. S. Steel, 113 1/4, up 3/4; Baldwin, 124 1/2, up 5/8; Studebaker, 41, off 1/4; American Can, 148 1/2, up 1/4; American Woolen, 8 1/4, up 1/4; Cast Iron Pipe, 150, up 1 1/2; G. ## CHI BOARD OF TRADE

CHICAGO, Dec. 15.—Grain futures closed higher with wheat leading in strength. A decrease in the visible supply encouraged local buying with the result that wheat in late trade rallied and passed opening figures. Export sales were small, approximately 400,000 bushels, mostly to the Orient.

Corn slumped but rallied with wheat and belief that a shortage exists, despite an increase in the visible posted today.

Oats strength was due mainly to other grains. Provisions rallied from the low point on hard buying.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK

CHICAGO, Dec. 15.—Hog receipts at the local stock yards today shattered all previous records. The run was 12,000, the highest since November 1918, when 95,994 hogs were received. This high price of corn was the reason behind the record movement.

Appeals were sent out to shippers to hold back further consignments of hogs by the National Livestock Producers' association today, so serious was the condition at the local yards.

Alley and unloading platforms are congested. The supply on hand is sufficient to run the market for three days.

Poor returns from feeding operations and scarcity of corn has forced stock raisers to ship their light hogs to market, officials declared.

With corn selling at approximately $1.25 a bushel and pork bringing only nine cents a pound, the situation offers but one alternative to the farmer—that is to sell livestock, it was stated.

The members of the Intermediate Epworth League of the Spurgeon Memorial church were entertained last Friday night by the assistant superintendent, Miss Mary Fine, at her home on West Santa Clara avenue. Fourteen young people were present to enjoy the evening. The home was decorated with Christmas emblems; games were played and delectable refreshments served.

Terry Stephenson Jr., son of Postmaster and Mrs. T. E. Stephenson, had the misfortune to break his arm again Saturday while playing in the yard of his home. The member was first injured in a game of football at the high school.

Horace Fine, the Misses Cleora, Charlotte and Mary Fine, Miss Lula McDaniel of San Jose and Mrs. Olive Lopez motored to Camp Kearney yesterday, where they were guests of Dr. and Mrs. Henry M. Fine. Dr. Fine's cousin, Dr. Fine, is one of eleven resident physicians at the camp hospital.

Mrs. C. F. Crose, who has been president of the Women's Missionary Union of the First Congregational church, and who is retiring this year, was honored at a meeting last Wednesday of the union and the missionary department, when she was presented with a beautiful basket filled with flowers as a token of appreciation. The basket was presented by Mrs. M. T. O'Brien, who paid loving tribute to Mrs. Crose for her long years of faithful service to the work of the union. Mrs. Crose was greatly affected by the tribute and responded with brief words of thanks.

Word from Mrs. W. H. Crose of 622 Riverine avenue, who with Mr. Crose, is spending the winter at Long Beach, states that she is suffering from a wrenched knee, the result of a fall at the home of Mr. Crose's brother, A. J. Crose, where Mr. and Mrs. Crose are guests.

this whole question. I think we ought to have a hearing, perhaps an airing. I simply say to you if you go to this alleged public meeting you ought to know what you are doing and I suggest that if you pledge any amount you ought to know for what purpose you are making the pledge. And I make this kind of an announcement because of my interest in our city's affairs.

SCHOOL NEWS

Julia Lathrop

One of the drama clubs of the Julia C. Lathrop Junior High school has a membership of about thirty-five. They have been divided into smaller groups and are busy working on several short plays. One group of girls is to present "Christmas with the Mulhigans" at assembly next Wednesday.

A short play, "The Beauty Shop" was presented at club meeting Friday. The characters were: "Madge Brooks," the beauty doctor, Virginia Cookingham; "Katie," her assistant, Ida Mae Bradley; "Mrs. Bump," who would reduce, Peggy Chappelle; "Miss Gray," an actress, Thelma Obar; "Mrs. McGee," who would be young again, Ruth Whitford; "Pat McGee," her husband, Dan Kirmse.

The club groups are under the direction of Misses Waive Kingrey, Eleanor Surgeon and E. Anderson.

Mrs. Benson had charge of the assembly at the Julia C. Lathrop school, Wednesday, December 10. The following program was presented:

Songs from the operetta "Sylvia," Betty, Betty, "Come Out into the Sunshine," third period chorus; Christmas story, Herman Woodworth; piano solo, "Rondo," (Mozart) Florence Resnick; Life of Schubert, Lucile Bermann; vocal solo, "Somewhere a Voice is Calling," Ferdina Peters; Ideas Concerning Christmas Brought From Various Countries, Adeline Bernson; scene from operetta "Sylvia," Girls' Glee club, with Clarence Ranney as "Man of Consequence."

The week of December 8-12 was a busy one for the Lathrop basketball teams. Wednesday, Lathrop defeated Willards' scrappy team in a one-sided game, by a score of 10 to 2.

The Lathrop lineup was: Mercado, Tucker, forwards; Musick, Sherwood, guards; Dungan, center.

Thursday, the first team won, 10-0, from Fullerton. The Intermediates came away with a 12-6 victory, while the Juniors lost, 10-0.

The lineup was: First team—Forwards, Breeding, Duncan; guards, Dolbee, Musick; center, Tucker. Intermediates—Forwards, Shoemaker, Bean; guards, Smith, Keeler; center, Spencer. Juniors—Forwards, Gerhardt, Alkein; guards, Landers, Gable; center, Hillgass.

In room thirty-two of the Julia C. Lathrop Junior High, one can hear, at any time of day, a buzzing, bustling, hammering, creaking of saw, plane, and complete satisfaction.

It is nothing more than a Christmas workshop filled with old Santa's helpers.

There are really beautiful things being turned out to the satisfaction of the teacher, Miss Bernson, who is in charge of the art classes. Among the array of half finished work, are lovely bronzed book ends, fancy dressed "chinkies" holiday incense burners and powder boxes of glass painted in iridescent colors with dainty powder puffs. Lucky is the lady who receives such a Christmas gift. There are really beautiful things being turned out to the satisfaction of the teacher, Miss Bernson, who is in charge of the art classes. ## Parent-Teachers Assn.

In order to raise money to purchase new phonograph records for Franklin school, the P.T. A. of that school will present a Christmas program Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock.

Miss Octavia Goldworthy will read the play, "Leonard's English Christmas" and musical numbers will include piano solos by Floyd Best and Miss Grace Pritchard and vocal solos by the Misses Dorothea and Lorene Matney.

A small admission fee will be asked and at the close of the program, ice cream, cake and candy will be on sale.

The program presented at the P.T. A. on Friday evening, was one of general and absorbing interest to all present. Following the disposal of routine musical number, the program of musical numbers was given under the direction of Miss Edith Cornell.

The first number, two Christmas carols, beautifully sung, was given by a quartet of girls—Melmoth Stanley, Senyada Celisado, Jean Smith and Florence Winkle, accompanied by Teresa Bement, piano, farion Nau, violin, and Thomas fahan, clarinet. Katherine Chanler followed with two piano numbers, brilliantly executed.

An act from the operetta, "Sylvia," which is to be given by the music class early in January, was given with the speaking parts taken by Clarence Ranney, Virginia Cookingham, Ferdina Peters, Mary and Brunner, and assisted by a chorus. The parts were splendidly acted and sung, and the complete performance promises to be of such interest, reflecting much credit upon the teacher, Miss Cornell.

The program upon "Getting Acquainted With Our City" then followed. Mrs. J. Edmund Snow gave a history of Santa Ana and its growth from the mustard-covered fields of pioneer days, to the modern city we are proud to claim. Many bits of highly interesting local color were introduced and made this talk one of the best the association has heard.

Leon MacMullen followed with an interesting glimpse of the naturalization class work, with which he is busied at the night school, conducted three times a week at the Frances E. Willard building. The audience was sorry only that it could not see the work of the naturalization class.

Frances Willard

The girls of the Frances E. Willard school are planning to give a Christmas entertainment to the children of the Logan school. The boys and girls have been asked to bring toys to donate to this worthy service in order that no child at that school need have a toyless Christmas.

A California Christmas Here's just one thing I'd like to know!

How in the world does Santa go, To children who live where the grass is green?

For in all the pictures I've ever seen

He is all surrounded in snow and ice,

Still we get presents where winters are nice,

I asked my mother, she only smiles,—

"Don't bother me now, just be a good child

And your gifts will get here, somehow, somewhere."

I'll bet I know, he comes by air. He'll fly right over each chimney top

And one by one the gifts he'll drop.

It would be so handy, and quiet too.

The very best thing he could possibly do.

So when I look for Santa to come, I'll just listen for an aeroplane's hum.

LUCILE ERSKINE.

Miss Smith's 4a and 4b classes made a visit to the fire station last week which proved most interesting.

The fire captain met the students and took them through the station and explained the different rooms, trucks, and all the equipment. Everyone was especially impressed by the extremely neat and shining appearance of the station.

Every Girl's Club

Members of Every Girl's club of the Frances E. Willard Junior High school enjoyed a field day program in the gymnasium Friday morning, December 12.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Josephine Ball. A short business session included the arrangements for the Christmas program which is to be given at Logan school next Tuesday afternoon.

Miss Franzen, physical education teacher, then directed the girls to the basketball court where games and relay races were enjoyed.

MARY BLAKEMAN.

John Muir

There is a fine professional spirit, manifested among the teachers of John Muir school for when the count was taken last week it was found that every teacher was a member of the National Educational association, the California Teachers' association and City Teachers' league.

Sixth grade John Muir pupils are compiling the second edition of their newspaper—The John Muir Bulletin.

The children of the primary grades are busy, during the drawing period, making Christmas gifts for their parents.

The kindergarten children are making gifts for their mothers, Christmas tree ornaments, and preparations to welcome Santa at their party.

We had a good game Wednesday night. Our boys beat Roosevelt boys, with a score of 10 to 8. Herman Placencia pitched unusually well.

Spurgeon

The third grade won the contest for securing members for the P.T. A. Parla Nell Clayton brought five. They were rewarded Tuesday afternoon with ice cream cones.

city government and its representatives to the audience, who were told that Santa Ana, with its marvelous growth, and still operating under laws of the California legislature which arbitrarily fix our tax rates and thus limit our growth—is like a full grown maiden who is still clothed in infant dresses.

Barry McPhee, with a series of clever charts took up the subject of the city budget. The "temperature" of Santa Ana was "taken" by means of a huge thermometer the bonded debt being the "mercury" and the patient's condition showed that the bonded debt is not only in excellent repute, but also far below the normal capacity expected of a municipality the size of Santa Ana. Thus the inadequate housing of the Polytechnic high school is a direct reflection, not upon our ability to provide the necessary buildings, but upon the indifference of the voters.

Captain Raymond, of the Central fire hall, in his talk upon the fire department and its history, took his hearers far back to meeting in a barn, where each man present promised to buy and use a water bucket at all fires in Santa Ana. This seems ridiculous as compared to the present modern apparatus with its efficient crew of men, yet our present system in comparison to our size, is really in about the same relation as that of the volunteer bucket brigade.

Two other very splendid talks prepared by Mrs. Earl Morris on "The Juvenile Home and Court," and by Mr. Charles Marcher on the police department were reluctantly laid over until the next meeting in order that the hospitality committee might add to the pleasure of the evening by serving homemade cake, pineapple sherbet and coffee.

The executive board regrets that more parents and citizens in general do not attend these really excellent meetings, which are carefully planned to present worthwhile subjects and at future meetings it is hoped that instead of 100 members there will be a capacity house.

Elk Xmas FundNo less than five husky turkey gobblers will be given away at the A. and B. Bowling and Billiard parlors tomorrow night when the house will be taken over by Santa Ana lodge No. 794, B.
P. O. E., and all proceeds for the evening be given to the local Elk's Christmas Cheer fund.Numerous special "stunts" have been arranged by a committee from the antlered herd and there will be plenty of the prizes for the most.
Contests have been scheduled for the pool and billiard "slickers" as well as the pin-cracking experts, it was announced.Charley Paddock, the fastest human, took five sets of running shoes with him last June when he went East from Los Angeles for the Olympic games. One of them was a set of brand new shoes which the sprinter, hadn't even tried on. The old ones he had used in previous races and had run well in them.In the Olympic trials at Chambridge, Mass., Paddock wore a pair of old ones, a pair with a history. In the same shoes he had once run the 100 unofficially in 9.25 seconds. Two watches caught him in that time. You know what happened at Cambridge. Charley performed disappointingly. Wasn't even among the qualifiers, but the officials put him on the team anyway.The scene shifts to Paris. The big tests are at hand. Paddock is in his room looking over a collection of running shoes. The new ones, with unused spikes that glisten, stand out. Paddock picks them up, contemplates, puts them back and finally decides on another old pair.
Felt He Was 'All In'Paddock did no better in the Olympic trials than he had done in the American trials, and word came across the ocean that the most colorful figure known to the cinder track had run his last race."I felt that way about it myself," relates Paddock, "and when I got back to America I was ready to quit. The A. A. U. championships were on at Newark and I was urged to run. I entered more to be with the fellows than anything else."I picked up that pair of new shoes—the same pair I had carried from the coast to Cambridge, then to Paris and all the way back—and decided to wear them. You see I really didn't expect to do anything in the races. I had no superstitions. Any shoes would do.
Eventful afternoon fully describes it. Paddock won the 100 in 9.35 seconds, equaling the world record, and the 220 in 20.45, equaling another world record, held exclusively by himself. Loren Murchison and Al Leconey, great sprinters, were decisively beaten.Additional Sports

"Chief" Butler, Glendale hurler who had been almost invincible since the first inning, weakened enough to issue a pair of passes and cut loose with a wild pitch.
"Buster" Callan began things by working Butler for a walk. "Dutch" Hinrichs forced him at second.
Neal Raney, U. S. C. speed marvel, playing his first game at Irvine in

INDIAN GRID STAR TO QUIT COLLEGE RANKS THIS SEASONJOHN LEVI
The greatest Indian football player since the days of Jim Thorpe has played his last game of college football. John Levi, the player in question, has announced that this will be his last year at the Haskell Indian school. He has received several tempting offers to turn "pro" next year and says he probably will accept one of them.PHEASANTS FOR COUNTY PARK PLAN OF LOCAL SPORTSMEN;
ASK SUPERVISORS' APPROVALScores of long-tailed, brilliantly colored Chinese pheasants soon will add their beauty to picturesque Orange county park is plans, announced here today by officials and members of the Orange County Fish and Game Conservation league, are approved by the board of supervisors. Fifteen pair of the birds, born here almost a year ago, will be turned loose in the park when proper authority is given.At the same time the Orange County Fish and Game Conservation league began accepting contributions from local sportsmen to repay John Jacobs and Howard Timmons, two of its members, for what they paid out to hatch and raise the pheasants. Money for this fund, for which only a nominal sum is needed, will be taken by Victor Walker, president of the league, at his sporting goods store and by John Wilcox, at the Mc-Fadden Hardware company.Want Solons' Sanction
The proposal, it is understood, will be presented to the supervisors within the next two weeks with the unqualified support behind it of the league and scores of sportsmen who believe the beautiful birds would add greatly to the uniqueness of Orange county's park playground. The league hopes to be given authority to turn loose the pheasants before their mating season. No objection to the plan is expected from James Irvine, owner of the extensive Irvine ranch which bounds the park.It is against the laws of the state to shoot or molest pheasants and Justice Kenneth Morrison, who already has added his support to the park scheme, said today he would jail persons convicted of violating this measure.Adkinson Approves Plan Ed Adkinson, deputy state fish and game commissioner, also has fully endorsed the pheasant "planting" movement.The pheasants, now fully grown "picture birds" of rich chestnut and golden brown with white neck rings, were raised on the ranch near here of John Jacobs. They were "mothered" by a banty hen.
Pheasants not only are birds of the most unusual beauty but also do considerable good in that they eat any number of plant pests.A man must have his own

GLENDALE 7-0

PLAY COMPTON133-Pound Substitute Nabs Pass to Put His Team In Position For TouchdownThe most successful season in the history of Orange high school football had been brought to a definite close today. The county champions were eliminated from the race for the Southern California championship at Patterson field, Occidental college, last Saturday when they lost, 7 to 0, to Glendale after the hardest kind of a fight. The defeat terminated a most brilliant string of victories since last September.Glendale will meet Compton for the prep title at the Los Angeles Coliseum next Saturday.
It was a tough game for the Orangemen to drop for the lone touchdown of the struggle came in the closing moments and after Coach M. J. Berg's warriors had threatened on numerous occasionsto cross the Glendale goal or score via the place kick route.
Orange appeared to have a slight shade in the argument but the teams, apparently worn out by the long season, lacked color and dash.
Both elevens put up a stiff defensive fight but both were woefully weak on the offensive. Berg's charges managed to work up a defense for Elliott and Muff, like Glendale backs, who almost drove the team crazy at Santa Ana in the 9 to 0 affair.Substitute Is Hero
It was a 133-pound substitute,
Thompson, a recruit from the Class
B ranks, who put Glendale in position for its touchdown. Denney, regular Dynamiter fullback, was injured in the third quarter and Thompson was the only available substitute. With but five minutes remaining in the last period, Orange attempted a long forward pass from its own 25 yard line.
Thompson intercepted the ball and raced to the Orange 20 yard line before he was pulled down.Here Glendale showed its only offensive class of the afternoon.
Muff and Elliott, on off tackle runs, took the ball to the 12 yard line and Thompson carried it 9 more through center. Muff and Ryan brought the oval to the one foot line and Elliott squirmed over with it. Lowell kicked goal.In the next few moments Orange tried bravely to even thecount by throwing forward pass after forward pass. The Glendale fans were worrier when a couple were completed but Lavelle, end, intercepted one just before the contest closed, and put an end to the desperate rally.Herman Nelson, husky Orange tackle, thrilled the 20,000 spectators with a couple of 40 yard place kick attempts in the first half that lacked only inches of being good for three points. He also tried a couple in the third quarter that didn't come so close.Heinecke, Orange Star Nelson and Heinecke, guard, were the Orange defensive stars.
The play of Heinecke in particular was outstanding. He seemed to be

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified cod liver oil. It is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, cod liver oil is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to cod liver oil, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the cod liver oil goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrh of the throat, whooping cough, and all lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co.

Eczema Broke Out In Small Pimples Cuticura Healed

"I was troubled with eczema which broke out in small pimples on my face. When I scratched the breaking out or went near the hot stove water would come from it and as it touched other parts of my face the eczema spread. My scalp was also affected. It was very annoying, causing disfigurement, also itching. The trouble lasted about two months.

"I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and noticed a decided change for the better. I continued the treatment and was soon completely healed." (Signed) Mrs. Frank R. Schrater, Buffalo, Wyo., Feb. 28, 1924.

Cuticura Soap daily, with Cuticura Ointment occasionally, prevents pimples or other eruptions. They are pleasant to use, as is also Cuticura Talcum, an antiseptic powder of charming fragrance.

News From Orange County

SEE NEW YEAR AS BEST IN RECENT PERIOD

BALBOA, Dec. 15.—That 1925 will be a banner year and that this section of the California coast is destined to boom as never before, was the statement made today by Donald E. Foraker, head of the Advertising company bearing his name, and a well known Los Angeles business man. Mr. Foraker was here on a tour of inspection of the Blankenhorn tract, which his firm handles, and which is planning an extensive campaign in 1925.

"Perhaps the people of your fair city may not know it, but the advertising done by the Blankenhorn people last year did as much as any one thing to get the people of Southern California acquainted with the possibilities of Balboa. Many Californians had the impression that this section was a small, insignificant city; they were amazed to find the wonderful, latent resources here, the bay and the ocean and the surrounding hills.

"The plans of the Blankenhorn company are well worth considering. Its tract at the lower end of the Peninsula is ideally situated for beautiful homes and thousands of dollars have already been spent on improvements. In this connection, W. H. Burnham, Jr., of Pasadena and Balboa, should be given credit for the vast amount of work he has done in accomplishing the miracles that are being wrought on the Peninsula.

"The company recently donated by deed to the City of Newport Beach a half mile of valuable ocean frontage, in addition to 2261.07 feet of board walk, in first class condition, and but recently built. The cost of this improvement was $3,600.08, while the cost of the electric lights on the frontage was $2,021. Plans are now being made to secure a comfort station and rest room for the public and Mr. Burnham has been active in inducing citizens in that section to bring the matter before the attention of the Board of Trustees.

Mr. Foraker was delighted with his visit here and intends to return at an early date.

SPANISH TEACHER SPEAKS AT BEACH

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Dec. 15.—Miss A. T. Crasalla, Spanish instructor of the Anaheim high school, was the speaker at the meeting of the Rotary club here Friday. Miss Crasalla spoke to considerable length on her recent trip through Europe. Her talk proved her to have been a keen observer of conditions, peoples and costumes of the various countries which she visited. She was in France, Italy, Spain, Portugal, England, Scotland, and other countries.

Miss Ruth Montgomery, and Robert Hardy, pupils of Miss Wilma Potthoff played a violin duet, accompanied on the piano by Miss Potthoff. John H. Eader was the chairman of the program. Wayne Thompson, George Miller, Hugh Dale and W. C. Archibald, of Santa Ana were the guests of the club at the luncheon.

FINDS RELATIVE AFTER LONG SPAN

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Dec. 15.—To Mrs. G. O. Berry, of this city has come that experience which falls to a few, that of meeting a close relative and advisor of former days whom she has not seen for years.

Mrs. Berry was hostess here Saturday and Sunday to her uncle, R. L. Day, of Los Angeles. Many years ago when she was a girl Mrs. Berry spent much of her time at his home. During recent years she has heard little of him and it was only last week that she found that he has been living in Los Angeles for the past two years.

PHONE BOOTH BURNS
PARIS, Dec. 15.—Imprisoned in a telephone booth by a tightly wedged door, Jean Harteau narrowly escaped death by burning when he dropped a lighted match and set fire to a bunch of papers on the floor of the booth. He was rescued by firemen with axes.

Back-home papers, provoked at Firpo's two recent defeats, are referring to the South American as "Jumbo."

Elect Bown As C. C. Director

ORANGE, Dec. 15.—L. B. Brown was elected a member of the chamber of commerce director to take the place of William Feldner at a meeting of the board of directors held Saturday. He will represent the West Orange district.

Careful consideration is being given by the local chamber directors to a proposed bond issue for the purchase of a city park.

VETERAN SKIPPER PRAISES HARBOR

NEWPORT BEACH, Dec. 15.—Thirty-five years ago Capt. C. A. Knudsen brought lumber boats down to unload at Newport wharf, as it was then called. Capt. Knudsen has traveled over the seven seas since that day and again he has visited Newport. This time he came overland to examine the possibilities for ships entering Newport Bay. He has always had faith in Newport Bay and on this visit re-affirmed his hope of seeing utilized in the near future, the great natural advantages which Newport Bay possesses.

After a trip by launch, which included the entrance, the County channel and the great reaches of the upper bay, the Captain expressed himself freely of the subject. He classes the opportunities as "wonderful" and pointed out the small cost that would be necessary to open the lower bay to ships. He knows intimately every harbor on the Pacific coast and told Messrs. J. P. Greeley, Benj. Funcheon and Harry Welch, who accompanied him on his tour, that the work could be done very economically, and there need be no worry about getting business when the harbor entrance was opened and the channels deepened to permit vessels such as the "Alvarado," of which ship he is now master, to enter and leave freely. He told of the experiences of Coos Bay, Gray's Harbor and many other now important shipping points which has secured a large amount of business just as soon as they had fitted their harbors to handle it.

Capt. Knudsen came to Newport Bay at the suggestion of prominent shipping and lumber men of San Francisco to see and to report in person what he found here. He was very much interested in plans for improvement and urged adequate development as the best incentive to ships and ship owners to put Newport Bay on their calling lists.

Mr. Foraker was delighted with his visit here and intends to return at an early date.

CHRISTMAS TREE IS HEADED SOUTH

ANAHEIM, Dec. 15.—The Community Christmas tree is on its way to Anaheim from Washington, according to an announcement of the Kiwanis club and American Legion auxiliary of Anaheim Saturday.

The tree is coming down by water. It stands fifty feet high and is one of the finest trees obtainable in the state of Washington, the largest producer of Christmas trees in the union. The tree this year will be erected and the activities conducted under the auspices of the American Legion auxiliary.

M. M. ASSOCIATION TO DISCUSS TREE

ORANGE, Dec. 15.—A meeting of the Merchants and Manufacturers association this evening will have for its feature discussion the decorations of a huge Christmas tree to be erected in the Plaza by the local lodge of Elks who will see to it that appropriate gifts are distributed to the needy families and children of the city Christmas eve.

Part of the expenses for these gifts will be defrayed from money recently taken from the Elks minstrel show. Plans are being made by the lodge to make the event this year one that will be long remembered.

BUILDING MARK AT BEACH SOARS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Dec. 15.—Building permits issued here during the past week have brought the total permits for the month to $15,450. It was announced today by L. E. Mitchell, who is in charge of the building permit department.

If the building in the city continues during the remainder of the month as it has during the first few days, this should prove to be the record month of the year," Mitchell said. Fourteen permits have been issued during the month. F. H. Berdelman, 302 and 304 Tenth street, was granted a permit to erect a double house and garage. The house will contain two four-room apartments and will be of the popular Spanish type with stucco finish. The building will cost $5500 according to George A. Green, builder.

A permit was issued to A. J. Thedick of 525 Seventeenth street to erect a garage. George A. Green is the contractor for the structure which will be frame and will cost $300.

Construction work has started on a new five-room house for A. G. Hogan of 264 Geneva street. The building will cost $4000.

TAX RECEIPTS IN BIG GAIN AT BEACH CITY

NEWPORT BEACH, Dec. 15.—Tax receipts here for the year 1924 total $73,492.99 more than last year according to figures compiled here today by tax collector J. A. Porter. This substantial gain denotes better than any other way, the growth of a city, according to Porter.

The largest gain in tax collections came in taxes, tax redemptions and assessments for this year when $21,291.33 was collected. In 1923 the same sources of revenue brought the city $148,798.34, making a total gain of $69,492.99 for the year.

The smallest gain was for building permit fees when an increase of $18.00 in fees was collected over the total last year. In 1923, $663.75 was collected while in 1924 $682.75 was collected.

Gains over last year revenues were registered in every department. A total increase of $665.50 was recorded in the amount of city licenses collected this year over last year. Licenses this year amounted to $4,307.50; last year they were $3,642.

Camping fees increased 50 per cent according to Porter. Collections last year were $2,171; this year the collections amounted to $3,260.30.

Fees for dog licenses, sewer and plumbing permits, miscellaneous collections, and fines, amounted to $8105 during the past year. Fines totaled $443. An increase of 35 per cent was registered in all collections except of taxes, redemptions, and assessments, which the gain amounted to 46 per cent.

Total receipts from all sources during 1924 amounted to $234,646.88 while for 1923 the totals were $169,974.09.

ESTIMATE NAVAL CROP AT 75 CARS

ORANGE, Dec. 15.—More than 75 cars of naval oranges will be shipped from this district during the coming season, according to L. D. Palmer, manager of the Orange County Fruit Exchange, with the opening Saturday of the naval shipping season.

The Santiago Orange Growers' association will ship most of this fruit, already having sent eight cars to eastern markets for the Christmas trade.

There is a possibility, according to Palmer, that the season's crop will be cleared up late in January providing prices remain high and steady, allowing the packing and shipping plants to operate steadily. Otherwise the season will run over into February.

"Any left handed batter with a good eye and natural swing can overcome the handicap of south-pawed pitcher," says Babe Ruth.

Scouts Seek to Establish Troop In Foreign Land

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Dec. 15.—A ten cent Christmas present by each Boy Scout in this city, in the form of cash will enable a Scout troop to be formed in Oran, Algeria, according to Scoutmaster C. E. Morris who stated here yesterday that he was in receipt of a letter from Scoutmaster Block, of Oran which stated that the Scouts there needed help.

A call issued to local Scouts to come to the assistance of the foreign troops and it was decided that they would make the affair a Christmas event and bring cheer to the hearts of the foreign Scouts.

The letter from Scoutmaster Block, in part stated that the conditions there were bad and that the Scouts were having a hard time to exist. The money will be sent direct to the suffering troops by Scoutmaster Morris.

Two poor families in this city will also be cared for by Scouts at Christmas, it was announced. The Westminster troop of Scouts will also join with local Scouts in their Christmas plans.

Open house will be held at the Scout cabin here Friday night, Dec. 19, it was announced today by Scoutmaster Morris. Parents and friends of the Scouts are cordially invited to attend the meeting. A part of the program to be given during the evening will be supplied by each patrol of the troops here and the Westminster troop will also be included on the program. This will be the last meeting of the year.

Plans for next year are being formulated at the present time and already arrangements have been made for the staging of an entertainment at the grammar school auditorium January 22 and 23. Don Maxwell's Scotch Merry-makers will be featured during the evening.

Local Scouts have all taken a pledge to advance during the next few weeks in a program which aims to secure for the local troops the highest rating of any Scout organization in Orange county.

Kenneth Ward, former Eagle Scout, has returned to this city and is now connected with the troops as assistant Scoutmaster to Morris. Clyde Soden was recently secured as assistant Scoutmaster. The officers staff here is being steadily increased and bettered according to Morris.

Thirty-two of the highest ranking Scouts of the local troops including three Scouts from the Westminster troop will be honored soon by being given a trip to Big Creek. A nominal charge will be made of each Scout to take the trip. The remainder of the troops will be responsible for the other expenses. Entertainments and other stunts will be staged by the Scout troops here to defray these expenses.

WANT TOURISTS TO VISIT HARBOR, TOO

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Dec. 15.—Declaring that, in routing the course of 75 machines which will carry 250 tourists from the Steamship Bergenland through Orange county, Orange County Harbor has been completely left out of the program, J. A. Armitage, secretary of the chamber of commerce here had today prepared a letter recommending a change in the route to George W. Raymer, secretary of the Fullerton Chamber of Commerce, who is in charge of the trip.

"In leaving out Orange County Harbor, we are throwing away an opportunity to show these men a great natural asset," Armitage stated. He brought out the fact that lecturers on the tour would point out to the visitors the possibilities of the various sections.

The 250 tourists are owners and stockholders of the American Express company, and their stop at San Pedro will be one of the few stopovers on a world tour.

In his letter to Raymer, Armitage proposed that the course be laid to the bluffs overlooking the harbor from which point the inlet and the great basin which is ready to be developed may be seen to the best advantage. The proposed change in the route would eliminate Garden Grove from the line of cities to be visited.

"I believe that Garden Grove will take a big enough view of the matter and will see that the trip to the harbor is one of the most important points for us to bring to these visitors," Armitage said. The matter of establishing the Southern branch of the University of California in the Fullerton district is to be stressed to the visitors as one of the main steps to be taken in this section in the near future and it is hoped that if a favorable impression is made on the men that the recommendation will be made which will have an influence tending to bring the University branch to this county.

H. B. SCOUTS TO GET EAGLE RANK

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Dec. 15.—Angelo Mollica, local Scout, will be the only member of the three Scout troops here to become an Eagle Scout at the Scout rally and court of honor to be held at Santa Ana December 22 and 23. A large number of merit badges will be awarded to other Scouts in the various troops, according to Scoutmaster C. E. Morris.

Laurence Moomaw headed the only Scout patrol in the three local troops to win the 2000 points necessary to advance during a period of two weeks. A campaign here has been carried on with many of the Scouts making very fast progress. Every one of the eight Scouts in Moomaw's patrol advanced during the two week period.

Rev. S. J. Rogers, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, was unanimously chosen as the chaplain of the Scouts troops at a meeting of the boys held at the Scout cabin recently. Rev. Rogers replaced Rev. Andrew Shamel who has moved away.

To Open Bids On New Paving

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Dec. 15.—Bids on the paving of Walnut avenue from First street to Eleventh street will be opened at the adjourned meeting of the city trustees here this afternoon at 1:30 p. m., it was announced today. Other matters of routine business will also come before the board at the meeting.

It was doubtful if the petition asking for the recall of the members of the city council here would be submitted to the councilmen today as City Clerk Wright has not had ample time to check the names on the petition with the county clerk's office. Should the petition not be presented at this meeting it is likely that the matter will be carried over until the first meeting in January.

Deer Round-up In Ariz. Started

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz., Dec. 15.—Fifteen cowboys and several score Navajo Indians started a roundup in the Kaibab game reserve today. But it is deer and not cattle they are surrounding.

From 8,000 to 10,000 head of deer, threatened with death because of the foraging scarcity in the preserve, are to be hustled down to the Colorado river at a narrow, box canyon opening, and forced to swim across the green fields beyond.

The deer will cross the river at a point in the Grand Canyon, between Lee's ferry and Grand View.

22,600 DEAD OF ACCIDENTS ON U. S. ROADS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—More than 22,000 persons were killed and 678,000 injured in street and highway accidents throughout the nation during 1924, it was revealed today as city, highway and police authorities gathered here with representatives of automobile and insurance companies in an effort to lessen the toll of the deadly automobile and the grade crossing.

The total dead was placed at 22,600 in round figures.

Secretary of Commerce Hoover called the conference to draft a national plan to guide cities and states in campaigns to cut down the ever increasing lists of accidents and eliminate street and highway congestion.

Six committees have been investigating traffic situations in different states and cities, with the cooperation of state highway boards and city officials and will present their recommendations.

Starting increases in automobile collisions, grade crossing deaths and the tremendous economic waste caused by the jammed streets of the cities caused Hoover to conduct studies of the situation.

Jack of uniformity among traffic rules in cities will be one of the principal questions. An attempt will be made to arrive at a uniform code for city streets and rural highways.

Special attention will be given to the problem of reckless and incompetent drivers. An effort will be made to get all states to pass laws requiring automobilists to be obtained only after passing a rigid examination.

Hoover believes that traffic deaths will continue to increase until some drastic action is taken to relieve the situation. With twelve million cars in actual operation on streets designed mostly for horse traffic, the menace to life and property is increasing even faster than the number of vehicles, he believes.

TRUSTEES TO GET BACKING OF NEW BODY

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Dec. 15.—That four city councilmen here, who are under fire, by the Taxpayers' and Voters' League, will make a determined fight to retain their positions on the city board of trustees was made known today after the formation of a Civic Progressive League by about 50 of the local business men, who state they will back the present incumbents.

The Taxpayers and Voters are asking for the election of successors to James Macklin, Richard Drew, W. R. Wharton and L. R. Ridenour. Wharton and Ridenour were elected at the recent municipal election by an overwhelming majority. The four councilmen are charged with carrying on an extravagant and wasteful program in the expenditure of the city funds.

One of the charges made by the Taxpayers and Voters is that the chief of police is now receiving $500 per month. City officials claim they are paying the chief of police $250 for his various duties as city marshal, chief of the fire department, tax collector, and sanitary inspector. Excessive salaries are also being paid to other employees of the city, according to charges of the Taxpayers and Voters.

Headed by a group of the most prominent business men in town a Civic Progress League was formed here at a meeting held in the Obarr banquet hall Friday night. C. P. Patton, former president of the chamber of commerce is the president of the league. Elson Conrad is the secretary.

The Civic Progress League will lead a campaign to keep the four trustees in office, according to information given out after the meeting. Headquarters are to be established by the group in a central location. Various men will be placed in charge of headquarters.

The Taxpayers and Voters League has announced E. C. Wright as one of their proposed candidates for city trustee. The names of William Adair, president of the league, and that of Mrs. Minnie Higgins, has also been suggested. A meeting is to be held in the near future when plans for the campaign will be announced.

EVENING SALUTATION

"We can never see the sun rise by looking into the west."

NOT FOR US, THANK YOU

A certain type of "development" or "industrial" enterprise that is becoming quite prevalent in Southern California is really nothing but a real estate project of the most questionable character.

A promoter makes his appearance in a community seeking a "large tract of land for a great industrial enterprise." Perhaps he gets such a tract on a bonus or special price basis, or maybe he buys it outright on the market. Then "a great factory site" is reserved and the balance of the tract is put on the market as home-sites for the workers. Usually the reservation of the factory site is all of the factory that ever makes its appearance. Or perhaps some semblance of industrial development is effected. But the main purpose of the whole project, and the only purpose ever accomplished, is the sale of lots at a big profit to the promoters, who still own the "factory site" greatly enhanced in value by the improvements made at other people's expense.

Santa Ana has had many "opportunities" of this character, but through the careful conservatism of the chamber of commerce and its industrial committee this city has not been stung by this particular kind of promotion bug.

Not only does this kind "industrial enterprise" defraud those who invest in the homesite lots, but it often defeats real industrial enterprises. Men who undertake in good faith to establish industrial enterprises affording good investment opportunities, and that would be of real community value in the way of providing employment for people and payrolls for community development, find it difficult if not impossible to finance their undertaking, because the community in which they are operating has been stung or has seen a neighboring town stung by one of the real estate schemes that are worked under the guise of "industrial enterprise."

It is possible that Santa Ana's conservatism may lose it a real opportunity, once in a blue moon, but let it be said that it should become the victim of doubtful or fraudulent real estate schemes. One such scheme, worked on the community, would do it more harm in the long run than the loss of several real industrial enterprises.

SHOULD BE SPECIFIC OR NOT AT ALL

It is regretted by good citizens generally that one of the speakers at the mass meeting at Fullerton recently chose to make use of innuendo and insinuation in his address. He told of officers who break and wink at the law; he knew of a mayor who is breaking the law. He intimated this, and asserted that. But he was shy on names.

That kind of thing is neither fair to the officers nor to those who may conscientiously be interested with the speaker in carrying on the movement for prosecutions in this county for violations of the dry acts. If the speaker knows these things to be true, it is his duty as a true citizen to give his information to the proper authorities. Unless he knows the things to be true, and can furnish information of a nature upon which action can be taken, he ought not make the assertions he did make.

When a speaker fails to be specific in his accusations, as the speaker at Fullerton was, he casts a cloud, if his assertions have any weight, upon officers who are honest and sincere as well as upon those who may be guilty of the accusations he has made. And that is not fair.

CONSERVATISM GROWING

The German election is the latest proof that the "red menace" no longer menaces. The radicalism that came to a blaze in Russia's counter-revolution, and for a while threatened to overrun the world, has died down to a mere smolder. Russian Bolshevism itself has compromised with capitalism to the extent of at least fifty-fifty. Nation after nation that was stirred by red propaganda after the armistice has swung back into conservatism or apparent reaction.

The same world-wide influence has appeared lately in every important election. Great Britain, France, America, Germany, Italy, all have spoken against radicalism. To some extent they have spoken apparently against honest "liberalism."

Is this really a wave of reaction? Probably not. It seems more like what was characterized during the war, on the battle front, as "consolidating the gains." To the ardent progressive, merely ceasing to go forward seems like going backward. But it is the function of conservatism to consolidate.

It is not likely that any genuine and intelligent liberal movement of the present day—and there are more of them than there have been for a century—is really going backward.

The pendulum swings. The backward stroke gathers energy for the inevitable forward stroke. And the fact that the pendulum of public affairs always stops at the right and the left and swings back the other way is assurance against excesses in either direction. The clock of human events still runs, and the hands move ever forward.

THE PUZZLE COURSE

Not that it matters—yet it is of curious interest: The University of Kentucky is reported as introducing in its curriculum a course in crossword puzzles.

This might be regarded by the ignorant public as a substitute for the scientific courses in evolution, banished at the behest of fundamentalist law-makers. It is not a substitute for anything. The crossword puzzle is accepted in the halls of higher learning on its own merits. The dean of the university explains that this supposedly frivolous pastime deserves such honor because "anything which serves to educate and develop the memory is educational."

Far be it from the laity to quarrel with university pundits. We are all for education and memory-development. And when the colleges can get around to it, we hope they will introduce courses in mah-jongg, bridge whist and baseball statistics, all of which impose quite a strain on the memory, and so must have great educational value.

FINANCIAL WIZARDRY

Another "financial wizard" comes to grief, this time in Batavia, N. Y. Earl Williams, after a brief blaze of glory, is reported insolvent to the extent of $300,000, and his operations are being probed by the prosecutor of Genesee county.

Williams was a thirty-year-old insurance agent, who had plugged along and managed to save a few thousand dollars without attracting any attention. Then suddenly he bought a fine house and moved into it, and began living as a rich man. To friends he confided that he had made a pile of money buying and selling a certain kind of New York bonds.

His friends urged him to invest their money. He did so, and in a few days turned back to them enormous profits. The story spread that Williams was a "wizard," and could make money for anybody. People deluged him with offers of funds to invest, contentedly accepting his "I. O. U.'s" for it. His operations grew rapidly until he had to employ 17 assistants. It seemed as if nearly everybody in the county was speculating in his scheme. Then all at once the bubble burst. Now there is gloom in Genesee county.

Same old story! It is another good example of the everlasting foolishness of people who want to get something for nothing and believe that it can be done, and insist on risking their money. There is as much belief in financial wizards today, in this enlightened land, as there ever was, during the middle ages, in mystic power over nature.

RICHARD MELROSE

Death, last week, took another of Orange County pioneers, a man who had been a leader and an active force in the upbuilding of the county, and in the passing of this pioneer, Richard Melrose, we are again reminded that we owe much to men of his caliber and his activities.

Richard Melrose was strictly Californian. As a young man he enlisted to serve his country, being stationed in the old government barracks at San Pedro. While still a young man he made Anaheim his home. While doing newspaper work, he studied law, and began his practice, eventually becoming one of the two or three leading attorneys of the county. He was associated with Attorney E. E. Keech in some of the most important irrigation litigation the irrigation districts of the county ever had.

Richard Melrose was a kindly, courtly gentleman, scholarly, affable and sincere. As a legislator, he was a diplomat. He was a true friend and an upright useful citizen.

Interest Helps Taxation

The state and local authorities collect revenue twice a year, the greater amount in the autumn. But the disbursement of the duty and weekly. Formerly the money laid in the vaults until used. Some years ago we recognized the folly of that and the people authorized the deposit of public money in banks, always secured as private deposits never are. The state alone, disregarding local authorities, has collected, in round numbers, $1,660,000 in interest during the present biennium.

We ought to collect all we can in aid of taxes. For the two years ending June 30 last the state collected from its citizens $186,612,976, which is at the rate of over $93,000,000 a year. That is a great deal of money. Much of it was for desirable things which we used to go without. We could easily bankrupt ourselves as flat as Austria without spending a cent for what we do not really want and which would add greatly to our comfort.

It is a question with states and cities, as with folks how much comfort we can get out of life without working harder for it than we like to work. It is "the folks" who have to work to dig up the money for public as well as private comfort. And in both cases the danger is debt.

State's Greatest Vote

Long Beach Press-Telegram.
California voters did splendidly in the November election. More than 60 per cent of the registered vote of the state was cast. The total vote was the heaviest in the history of California. The figures were 1,335,598, and the total registration was 1,822,007. This means that more than 485,000 qualified electors did not vote. But this remissness is not so flagrant, in view of the fact that the percentage of non-voters was considerably lower than usual.

By maintaining systematic efforts, campaign after campaign, to get out the vote, this state should make a better showing each succeeding election. From 80 to 90 per cent of the registered vote should be cast. This should be attained, under a campaign of intensive education and urging in the importance of voting. It will require some time, however, to accomplish this. The effort should not diminish. It is well worth while to work for increase in the number of voters and decrease in the number of non-voters here. This fosters the cause of good government.

California did itself proud in the November elections this year. It is to be hoped that this record may be improved upon at the next election.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M. D.

THE TONSILS AS FILTERS

Years ago before our medical health officers knew as much as they do now, it was not unusual for householders to put filters on their water taps. When these were removed from time to time to be cleaned, the amount of stuff removed was astonishing.

Now as a matter of fact the tonsils in your body are supposed to filter out waste material from the blood in your earlier years, and then as you get toward the adult age they usually disappear, their work being taken over by the other glands in the neighborhood. The fact that they persist is perhaps a fair argument that they should not be removed, and where they are in a healthy condition, even though large, most specialists allow them to remain.

Now what should be done where the tonsils do not look any too healthy, and there is an inflammation, and material puslike in character? Should they be removed? In former days they were removed because although no trouble could be actually traced to them, it was felt that it was better to remove them, than to wait for something to happen.

What is the procedure now? They are treated something like a filter. If they are unhealthy, but causing no general symptoms, the throat specialist attempts to clear them up by removing any pus, and allaying the inflammation as far as possible, without actually removing the tonsils themselves. He suggests at attention be paid to the diet, and to the intestine, and a cleansing liquid be used two or three times daily as a gargle.

However, if the tonsils are in very bad shape, and there are general symptoms, such as inflamed joints or "rheumatic pains," he advises complete removal of the tonsils. His idea is that when these are no longer able to act as filters, then instead of being of service to the body as a filter, they are actually so full of waste or poisonous material, that they are positively harmful to the body. This explains then why some tonsils are allowed to remain without treatment, others have treatment, and still others are removed entirely. In the light of our present knowledge all this seems reasonable.

Education Cost

Riverside Press

The increasing expenditures for education, the bugbear of taxpayers and the dread of educators, are not what they seem to be at all, but are really decreasing proportionately.

This apparently paradoxical conclusion is reached by Mabel Newcomer of the Educational Finance Inquiry Commission, in a study of financial statistics of public education in the United States, in the New York Sun. She declares that education, in spite of its rapidly mounting expenditures, is actually receiving a noticeably smaller proportion of the total government outlay than formerly.

The percentage of total governmental expenditures devoted to education decreased from 17.6 per cent in 1910 to 11.8 per cent in 1920, or about one-third, Miss Newcomer states. The percentage of national governmental expenditures devoted to education decreased from 1.3 per cent to 1 per cent, or about one-fourth. In the same period the percentage of state governmental expenditures devoted to education decreased one-fifth. Only in the case of local governmental expenditures did the percentage for education increase, and then only one-ninth, according to her figures.

The cost of highways, Miss Newcomer observes, is increasing at a far greater rate than the cost of education. And the outlay for both education and highways, although increasing rapidly in absolute amounts, together comprised only 19.8 per cent of the total government budget in 1920, as against 28.6 per cent in 1910 and 31.6 per cent in 1915.

Of total state governmental expenditures, she continues, the percentage for education in 1920 had decreased to four-fifths of what it had been in 1910, while the percentage for highways in 1920 had increased to five times what it was in 1910. Of total local governmental expenditures, the percentage for education increased about one-ninth from 1910 to 1920, while the percentage for highways increased only about one-thirtieth.

VESPERS

Little Boy kneels at the foot of the bed,
Droops on the little hands the little gold head
Hush! Hush! Whisper who dares!
Christopher Robin is saying his prayers.

God bless Mummy. I know that's right.
Wasn't it fun in the bath tonight?
The cold's so cold and the hot's so hot.
Oh! God bless Daddy—I quite forgot.

If I open my fingers a little bit more
I can see Nanny's dressing gown on the door.
It's a beautiful blue, but it hasn't a hood.
Oh! God bless Nanny and make her good.

Mine has a hood, and I lie in bed,
And pull the hood right over my head,
And I shut my eyes, and curl up small,
And nobody knows that I'm there at all.

Oh! Thank you, God, for a lovely day.
And what was the other I had to say?
I said "Bless Daddy," so what can it be?
Oh! Now I remember it. God bless me.

Little Boy kneels at the foot of the bed,
Droops on the little hands the little gold head.
Hush! Hush! Whisper who dares!
Christopher Robin is saying his prayers.

WHEN Mom has lots of things to do—the housework and the like—her helper gives her spirit new, a tiny little tike.

This little sister's three years old, but my, she's learning fast.

She does things just as she is told, and does them very fast.

The dishes come to start the day, and el r understands. They're wiped and quickly put away by tiny little hands. Then mother gets the sweeper out and cleans room room room. You'll shortly hear the swishing of a little three-foot broom.

The afternoon brings baking plans and things come from the shelf. So Sis puts flour on pots and pans and also on herself.

This tiny youngster works and goes around the house a-humming. Perhaps she's smart, perhaps she knows that Christmas soon is coming. (Copyright, 1924, NEA Service, Inc.)

Subterfuges Brushed Aside

Stockton Independent

The decision of the California Supreme Court in upholding, in four tests, the integrity of the Anti-Alien Land Act should put an end to ingenious efforts to circumvent the law and nullify its obvious purpose. The court held that so-called "cropping contracts," "bonuses," "percentages of the sale of the crop," agreements to "pay for the use of tools," were all palpable subterfuges and that all like efforts would be shown short shift.

Like the United States Supreme Court, the California court reviewed the law broadly from the angle of what it was designed to accomplish and said, virtually in so many words, that any piece of fine spun verbal interpretation or legalistic finessing designed to find or make a loophole would fail of its purpose.

On the exercise of this type of ingenuity, the court said:

The many and insistent efforts of the land owners and ineligible croppers to frame a contract that will accomplish the obvious purpose of the contracting parties, as interpreted by the recent decision of the Supreme Court, have thus far been futile and must continue to be so under the Constitution and the Alien Land Act.

The general tone and application of broad principles of interpretation to effectuate the obvious legislative intent is clearly illustrated in this language of one of the decisions:

The occupancy and the use of land and the privileges incidental thereto by ineligible aliens would have the practical effect of denial of the use, occupancy, enjoyment and benefit of land to citizens. The questions presented by the issues are not ordinary cases involving property rights, as between individuals merely, but they are questions which affect our relations as a nation with a foreign country.

This alone furnishes a sufficient reason for the option by this court of the construction placed upon the Alien Land Act by the Supreme Court of the United States.

Ineligible aliens are not deprived of any of the treaty rights by reserving the agricultural land of the nation for the use, occupancy, benefit and enjoyment of its citizens or those eligible to become citizens, nor are they denied the rights to engage in ordinary employment or means of earning a livelihood. The ordinary employment and occupation for which a livelihood may be earned remains open to the ineligible alien.

Attorney General Webb announces that the decisions have cleared the way for carrying out the real purposes of the Act of 1920. Commenting on the court's rulings, he said:

The decisions handed down by the State Supreme Court determine finally that the various attempts to circumvent the Anti-Alien Land Act by cropping contracts, and particularly by the use of language intended to designate the relationship between the parties as merely one of employment and occupation for which a livelihood may be earned clear and for all to carry out the real purposes of the people in adopting by the initiative the Anti-Alien Land Act of 1920.

Now that the law has been completely sustained on its legal side, the question of enforcement becomes of paramount importance. The punitive provisions of the law are drastic, but it is hoped that its general observance will be prompted by a sense of responsible citizenship rather than by fear of penalty.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

NO. 1—JOHNNY SWEEP

"Who are you?" asked Nick curiously.

No wonder he asked it, for the Twins were outside busily making a snow-man when suddenly a little black fellow appeared beside them from nowhere. He was so black all over that the whites of his eyes looked like splashes of white-wash on coal. He was grinning from ear to ear, which showed his white teeth in two rows.

His teeth looked like a white picket-fence on a dark night. They surely did.

Over his shoulder was a broom, as black as he was.

No wonder Nick stared and said, "Who are you?"

"I'm Johnny Sweep," said the little black fellow. "I sweep out your chimneys and keep them clean."

"How lovely," cried Nancy. "I think it would be loads of fun to be a sweep. Come on and play with us and help us to make our snow-man, won't you?"

Johnny Sweep laughed. "He wouldn't be a snow-man if I touched him," he said. "He would look more like the coal-man, or look like a sweep like me. I'm too sooty to touch anything except chimneys."

"Don't you ever have any fun?" asked Nick.

"Sure!" nodded Johnny Sweep. "I play with the Sooties!"

"The what?" cried the Twins.

"What did you say?"

"I said the Sooties," grinned Johnny Sweep. "I play with them."

"Who are the Sooties? We never heard of them."

"Never heard of the Sooties!" cried Johnny Sweep. "Then you haven't heard much. Why, the Sooties are the little black people who live in the chimneys. They have a grand time."

"And do you sweep them out?" asked Nick. "I don't think that's much fun for them."

"Oh, no! No indeed!" said Johnny. "I just keep their houses clean for them. When I come around on cleaning day, they hide in the flues and stick between the bricks until I'm through. Then they come out."

"Dear me," said Nancy. "I wish I could be a sweep and play with the Sooties!"

"So do I," said Nick.

Hardly were the words out of their mouths, when two pairs of little green shoes appeared in the snow before them.

"Now you can come with me," cried Johnny Sweep. "There are the magic shoes. Put them on and we'll ride my broom to the house-tops. I can take anyone with me if they have the magic shoes. The Fairy Queen said so. You see Chimney Land is one of her nine hundred and ninety-nine kingdoms and I am one of her care-takers. Come along!"

The Twins slipped off their own little shoes and put the magic ones on.

All three hopped on Johnny Sweep's broom and away they went toward Chimney Land.
